JAVA TAXI ARMY BATTLES JAPS

Bandoeng, Java
March 2 (AP)
By Telephone to N. Y.

•OFFICIAL NEWS

By WITT HANCOCK

An Allied counter stroke delivered against Japanese invasion forces wedging into Java was declared officially tonight to have "developed satisfactorily."

All details of the hard-fighting defense, however, were kept secret.

Supported by a smashing aerial assault which has wrought havoc among Japanese on the beaches, a desperately determined taxicab army has been rushed into action.

The official war report acknowledged flatly that "the situation in some parts of Java is obviously critical" but added the invaders were "receiving blows, hammer and tongs."

NO SPY ACTIVITY REPORTED

"Up to now," it continued, "there is no information received about fifth column activities.

"Everywhere our troops are going to meet the Japanese . . .

"Although there is no question of a direct threat to Batavia, vital objectives are being made useless to exclude all risks."

The Dutch and Allied counter moves against the invaders' three hard-won beachheads were described in the communique with these words:

"From well-informed circles it is heard that action against the Japanese troops developed satisfactorily. Although in connection with the character of the operations no details can be published, it can be said the enemy received fair hits."

Aneta reported up to a short time before midnight there had been no word of any new Japanese landings on the Java coast or of the approach of any new invasion armada.

The taxi army may already have fought a vital engagement against invaders who in two days swept to within 30 miles of this military headquarters of the United Nations.

"ATTACK" IS WATCHWORD

"Attack and not defense must be our watchword," said an order of the day, which disclosed British troops had gone into action.

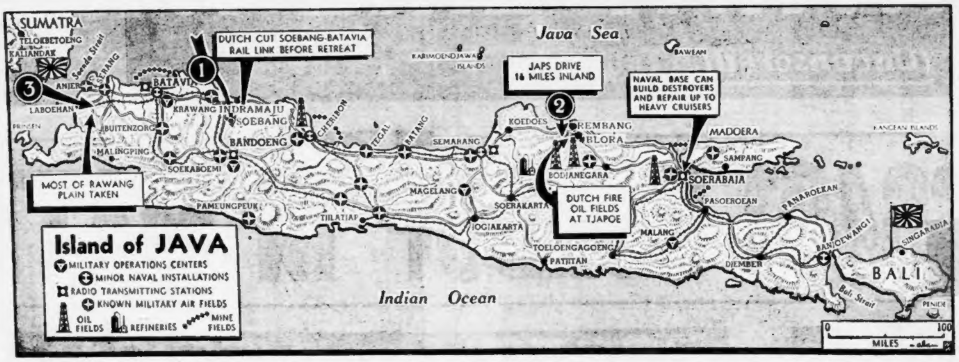
Fr. O'Donnell Scores Falling Birth Rate

CHICAGO, March 2 (AP)—Americans "have been putting a prize premium on poodle dogs" while the birth rate in the Axis nations has been steadily rising, says the Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, C. S. C., president of the University of Notre Dame.



JAVA FRONT—Map tells a quick story of the war for Java: About 100 miles east of Batavia, capital city (1), Japanese penetrate 40 miles from the Indramaju coast, capturing Soebang, but are still 40 miles from Bandoeng. This force may be trapped. (2) Twenty miles below Rembang, 70 miles west of Soerabaja, Japanese spearhead approaches Blora. And (3) Jap drive at western end of Java, in the Bantam district, 60 miles from Batavia, appears to have been checked. Meanwhile, American troops are fighting side by side with Australians, British and Dutch.

Destroyer Sinks Sub On 1st Run

New York
March 2 (AP)

•U. S. OFFICIAL

A brand new United States destroyer recently met and almost certainly dealt successfully with an enemy submarine within 48 hours of the time her trim prow first sliced through the cold North Atlantic, the Third Naval District disclosed today.

Details of the encounter, based upon the official record of the new vessel and the observations of a public relations officer temporarily assigned to her, were made public by authorization of Rear. Admr. Adolphus Andrews, commandant of the Third Naval District and commander of the eastern sea frontier.

The destroyer, with a new crew, steamed out of a northern port almost before her last coat of gray war paint was dry.

Launched only last September, she had never had any test runs and even her guns had never been tried. Many of her crew were inexperienced at sea. But all had been drilled thoroughly ashore in the duties of their respective stations.

Shortly before 10 o'clock on the second night out men at the destroyer's listening post had reported:

"Submarine submerged bearing 160, sir."

Then began a real test for the new ship. The submarine used every trick to escape, but the destroyer gained the desired position and dropped depth bombs.

Then, over the rough seas where the bombs had been dropped there emerged a tell-tale patch of oil. Almost positive proof the submarine had gone to the bottom.

SOVIETS TIGHTEN TRAP ON NAZIS AT STARAYA

Moscow
March 2 (AP)

•OFFICIAL NEWS

The Red army was reported today within sight of the wrecked houses of the key northwestern city of Staraya Russa, where 90,000 Germans are said to be trapped with dwindling food supplies, while farther south the Russians pushed toward Smolensk and Dnieperopetrovsk against fierce German resistance.

(Hundreds of Britain's 12-gun Hurricanes are fighting daily on the Russian front, piloted by Red Air Force fliers, it was disclosed in London with news of the return of the RAF wing of two squadrons from Russia.)

Dispatches from the Staraya Russa region said the Russian army was drawing its steel noose tighter around the German 16th army each day and quoted a German prisoner as saying morale in Staraya Russa had cracked within the past few days.

The Germans transformed Staraya Russa, once a Russian resort city famous for its brine springs, into a base for communications on the northwestern front below Leningrad. The city, near Lake Ilmen, is 280 miles northwest of Moscow and 140 miles almost due south of Leningrad.

The mid-day communique declared that Russian planes were frustrating all German attempts to supply the encircled Nazi forces in the Staraya Russa sector from the air.

Bitter fighting continued in the Leningrad area, where the Russians are attemptnig to lift the siege of the second Soviet city.

The communique said that Red army forces, attacking the Nazi siege lines, had destroyed two German blockhouses, 15 dugouts and two observatiou posts during two days of fighting. The Germans were said to have left 1200 men and officers dead on the battlefield.

German losses in the Leningrad sector during the last six months were put at 10.420 men and 490 officers, including two generals and 160 secret police agents.

On the central front, with the Russians concentrating on the Smolensk drive, troops under Gen. Golubev were reported by the Moscow radio to have wiped out two infantry battalions

BRITISH CLING TO RANGOON RIVER TO BAR INDIA ROAD

London, March 2 (AP)

British patrols ranging along the Salween river fought today to break up feeler thrusts by Japanese forces massed in gathering strength for a drive across the river toward virtually deserted Rangoon, the broad Irrawaddy and the approaches to India.

The Japanese radio reported that, for the second time, the invaders had struck beyond the battle lines with aerial attacks in the Indian ocean.

The broadcast said Japanese naval bombers raided a radio station and "base facilities for the Allied fleet" at Britain's Christmas Island, on key sea lanes 220 miles south of western Java.

In the first such attack the Andaman islands between lower Burma and the tip of India were bombed last week.

Dispatches from Burma indicated the British still held the west bank of the Salween, and said two parties of Japanese had been ambushed by patrols on the east bank north of the important rail center of Pegu, 30 miles from Rangoon.

That once great Oriental seaport, bustling only a few days ago with the unloading of supplies for China via the Burma road, has been abandoned now by virtually all except weary Empire troops and looters.

On the 434-mile road north from Rangoon, past Pegu, and on to Mandalay, the flow of trucks for China has been replaced by the stream of bewildered peasant refugees and bandit-beset Indian laborers plodding toward their homeland and hopes of safety.

Subs Nail Convoy, 4 Ships Sunk

A Canadian Port
March 2 (AP)

•OFFICIAL NEWS

A tale of wholesale disaster striking suddenly in the night far at sea has been brought here by survivors of a convoy which lost at least four of its merchant ships when it was caught by a pack of U-boats in mid-Atlantic.

Rescued seamen, 111 men from the four vessels, were brought to port yesterday. Their accounts, indicating that the westward plodding convoy may have been tailed by submarines for days, put as high as nine the number of merchantmen torpedoed.

Some of the survivors, the crews of three tankers and one freighter, were picked up by a United States warship.

How many of the other torpedoed ships went down and how many men were lost was not disclosed.

Survivors from one ship, of whose crew 38 men are missing, said the vessel was struck at 3 a. m. and sank before a boat could be lowered. The 39-man crew of another ship arrived intact, rescued after several hours in three lifeboats on the dark, tossing Atlantic.

One seaman said seven vessels were torpedoed on the night of the attack more than a week ago and that two more were hit the next morning; another said the attack went on for days; a third reported that sounding devices detected the U-boats in the raid.

Separate Air Command in 3-Way Army

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—President Roosevelt today ordered a streamlined reorganization of the Army, giving new recognition to the importance of the air forces.

Abolishing numerous time-honored bureaus, Mr. Roosevelt's executive order grouped military functions into three basic units: The Army ground forces, Army air forces and Army service of supply.

Each will be under a commanding general and all will be under the chief-of-staff, Gen. George C. Marshall.

The effect was to group all the old arms such as infantry, artillery and cavalry into one unit, and the air forces into another, separating the function of supply in a third.

WITH ARMY OF 4 MILLION

The air forces were given a semi-autonomous status under their own chief, Lieut.-Gen. Henry H. Arnold, last year, at a time when congressional champions were demanding independence for the air arm from the Army and Navy.

The reorganization was ordered after weeks of study, given urgency by the war, of means to improve the Army's efficiency during the projected expansion to 4,000,000 or more officers and men.

The Secretary of War was authorized to create additional overseas departments to embrace task forces, base commands, defense commands, commands in theaters of operation and other commands he deems necessary.

To the commanding general, Army ground forces, were transferred the functions, duties and powers of the chiefs of infantry, cavalry, field artillery and coast artillery corps (except those relating to procurement, storage and issue).

The functions, duties and powers of the commanding general, general headquarters air force (air force combat command) and of the chief of the air corps were transferred to the commanding general, Army air forces.

NEW SUPPLY BRANCH

The commanding general of the new services of supply will take over the functions, duties and powers of the chief of coast artillery

NAZI-BUILT PLANES BOMB MACARTHUR?

U. S. OFFICIAL

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP) — The War Department reported today that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Philippine forces were bombed by enemy planes with unusual markings which "may have been German-built."

The raids, made behind the defenders' lines on the Bataan Peninsula, were local and failed to inflict damage, a communique said.

Three two-engine planes were said to have had unusual markings, being painted black with white crosses on the wings.

Japan, the communique said, is believed to have had German-built planes in reserve.

Ground operations on the Peninsula meanwhile dwindled to a virtual standstill in the past 24 hours, the War Department advised.

Official U. S. Communique

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—The text of the War Department's communique, No. 130, based on reports received here up to 9:30 a. m. EWT.

THE PHILIPPINE THEATER

"There were practically no ground operations in Bataan during the past 24 hours.

"Enemy air activities were confined to some local bombing raids behind our lines. No damage was inflicted. Among the enemy aircraft participating in the bombing were three two-engine planes with unusual markings. They were painted black, with white crosses on the wings. They may have been German-built planes, some of which Japan is believed to have had in reserve.

Big Guns Boom In Foggy Battle Over Channel

LONDON, March 2 (AP)—Fog blotted out the Channel area today where the heaviest gunfire in recent months had been heard last night, and official reticence was just as thick as the fog.

German long-range guns near Cap Gris Nez, on the occupied French shore, opened the attack soon after dark and after a lull, turned loose a fierce bombardment.

Smaller guns joined from the direction of Calais but the thick haze hid the scene

Man, Wife Carry Out Suicide Pact

REHOBOTH, March 2—Found clasped in each other's arms today on a lonely wooded lane off Fairview ave., Joseph E. Mahoney, 45, poultryman at Bridgewater State Farm, and his wife, Jessie, 43, were declared by Dr. Jesse W. Battershall, medical examiner, to have died in a suicide pact.

Clinched in Mahoney's right hand was a .38-caliber revolver police said was the death weapon. Authorities believe the husband fired a shot into his wife's heart and then put the weapon to his own temple.

When the bodies were found Mrs. Mahoney, an inmate of Taunton State Hospital for two years, had her arms around her husband's neck. Her head rested on Mahoney's shoulder and the bodies were propped against a rock.

State Trooper Francis Halloran of Rehoboth barracks found the bodies after he was called to investigate an auto in the lane since yesterday.

Taunton Hospital authorities said Mahoney was in the habit of taking his wife for a drive each Sunday. They said he left with her yesterday shortly after noon.

Arthur E. O'Toole, master at Bridgewater, said Mahoney left the farm Saturday afternoon.

H. P. HOOD AND SONS' EMPLOYES IN PLEDGE OF $200,000 TO FUND

BUY BONDS FOR MASSACHUSETTS BOMBERS!

Today the drive to BUY BOMBERS moves close to the $16,000,000 mark with the pledge of H. P. Hood and Sons' employes that they will buy $200,000 worth of BONDS and STAMPS in 1942.

Send the glorious name of MASSACHUSETTS to the fighting front. Buy Bonds and Stamps. Every Bond or Stamp will mean another step toward completion of BOMBERS which will be identified with the inspiring traditions of the Bay State.

Over 4200 employes joined in sponsoring the gratifying promise to BUY BONDS FOR MASSACHUSETTS BOMBERS! They are already well on their way to attaining the self-imposed task and have been contributing funds for VICTORY for several months by BUYING BONDS and STAMPS.

"Various methods have been devised by the company and its employes to encourage the sale of bonds and stamps," wrote Robert J. Burns, Hood company executive, in telling the BUY A BOMBER editor of the employes' pledge.

"Every employe has been given the opportunity to make purchases through deductions from payroll.

"It has also been arranged to extend this privilege to 5000 farmer producers, in which case deductions are made from milk payment checks."

MODEL FOR OTHERS

The dual plan outlined by Mr. Burns may well be studied by many business firms as a model co-operation between producers and wholesalers.

Why not study your business set-up to see if some such plan would be feasible to further BONDS for BOMBERS in your organization, Mr. Employer?

If every business firm in Massachusetts could make some arrangement whereby not only employes but, perhaps customers as well, bought BONDS and STAMPS, there's no doubt the resultant sales would make certain that MASSACHUSETTS would account for many more than its share of BOMBERS FOR VICTORY.

Everyone . . . farmer, businessman, worker, men, women and children . . . should do his utmost to BUY MASSACHUSETTS BOMBERS by BUYING BONDS and STAMPS.

2 BANDITS SEIZE $6481 IN MATTAPAN

Two bandits, one armed with a revolver, today held up and robbed a bakery truck transporting $6481.69 in cash, week-end collections of the Mattapan concern. They escaped with the money.

The daring daylight robbery took place near Babson st. railroad bridge when the truck, owned by Gentles Baking Co., 35 Mildred ave., Mattapan, was forced to the side of the road by the bandit car.

Harmon Grogan of Pearl st., Cambridge, foreman and driver, said a bandit in the holdup car stuck a revolver at him and cried:

"Give us the money!"

"Then he got out of the car and walked around in front of the truck to our right-hand side," Grogan said.

"He kept the gun pointed at us all the time and he just reached into the truck and took the bag with the money.

"When he got the money from in back of my seat, he reached up and grabbed the car keys. Then he told us, 'Don't move for two minutes and nobody'll get hurt.' "

William Geegan of 76 Charlesbank rd., Newton, was riding with Grogan. They copied the bandit car's registration number as it sped away.

The bandits drove toward Gallivan blvd., Dorchester, a route which would have taken them past the Mattapan police station.

The man who seized the money wore sun glasses and held a handkerchief to his face

Grogan and Geegan raced back to the bakery's office, a short distance away, and reported the robbery.

Girl-Attack Suspect Cuts Wrists, $25,000 Bail Set

Arrested in connection with an attempted attack on a Cambridge hospital student nurse today, Frank J. Sullivan, 52, Cambridge Civilian Conservation Corps worker, slashed his wrists in his jail cell with a razor blade in what police called an attempt at suicide.

Judge Robert Walcott ordered Sullivan, alias John J. Lycette, held in $25,000 for hearing March 9. Sullivan pleaded not guilty to both charges.

Rushed to Massachusetts General Hospital from the Lower Basin station of Metropolitan District police, Sullivan's wounds were treated and he was taken to East Cambridge District Court for arraignment on charges of breaking and entering and attempted attack on Miss Marion Hawkins, 22, in her room at the nurses' home.

IDENTIFIED BY GIRL

Miss Hawkins told police a man she identified as Sullivan entered her room and when she awoke he muttered:

"Keep quiet or I'll bash your head in."

He threw his arms around her, she told police, and she fought against his advances and managed to reach the light switch. She said the man left the room by a window when the light flashed on but not before she got a good look at him.

Her cries attracted the night superintendent of nurses, who called metropolitan police. A search of the hospital grounds proved fruitless, but Sergt. Harold Breen saw Sullivan sitting in the dark on Memorial drive and picked him up for questioning.

Lodged in a cell at the Lower Basin station after his belt and jack-knife were taken from him, Sullivan made his suicide try, police said, with a razor blade concealed in his overcoat lapel.

Police said Sullivan wore a CCC uniform similar to that described by Miss Hawkins as worn by her alleged assailant.

The accused man denied all connection with the affair and said he had been drinking in Central sq. earlier and did not remember anything after that. He said he lived on Foster st., Cambridge, before joining the CCC several months ago.

5 MEN RESCUE HUMAN TORCH TRUCK DRIVER

A human torch as he raced from the flaming cab of his overturned trailer truck at the Broadway Circle of International h'way, Revere, John Vaughan, 23, of Valentine st., Cambridge, was saved from death today by the quick action of five men. The quintet, two of them sailors, threw him to the ground and smothered the flames with their coats and a blanket.

The truck was making the turn at the circle when the load shifted and the 10-ton trailer fell over on its side. The cab immediately burst into flames.

Vaughan managed to struggle out of the blazing wreck and started to run towards the edge of the road when he was seen by three men in a nearby gasoline station. They gave chase and were joined by the two sailors.

The three men, Frank Vasa of Messenger st., George Perullo of Fiske st., and Anthony Bello, all of Revere, followed Vaughan after grabbing a blanket from the station. They covered Vaughan with the blanket as the two sailors stripped off their pea-jackets and aided in beating out the flames.

Eire Holds Firm On Her Refusal to Give Naval Bases

By INEZ ROBB

International News Service Staff Correspondent

Having gone to Northern Ireland to report the arrival of the second AEF in Europe, I was still in Belfast when Prime Minister De Valera protested the arrival of American troops on Irish soil.

THIS IS THE FIRST of a series of uncensored articles about Eire by Inez Robb, star feature writer for International News Service and the Boston Evening American, who recently returned to America after a survey of wartime conditions in both England and Ireland. Mrs. Robb, who is herself of Irish descent, embarked on what was to have been a "sentimental journey" to Eire, only to find herself confronted with the grim realities of war and its impact on the lives and thoughts of Eire's people.

I was just about to embark upon a sentimental journey to Eire to visit the birthplace of my maternal grandmother, Joanna Crowley.

And this did not seem a very auspicious time for an American to embark upon a sentimental journey to Eire! Subsequently, however, I made the journey and it was an education in itself. At least, I left Eire feeling that I understood some of the problems confronting a small neutral nation trying to steer a course between the devil and the deep blue sea.

This misunderstanding between the United States and Eire is, I believe, predicated on two things: First, the average American's complete ignorance of Eire's internal political situation and, second, the grim determination of this small nation to remain neutral and retain the naval bases on which her neutrality so largely depends.

Inez Robb

EIRE'S STAND OUTLINED

In conversations with the political leaders of Eire, including the heads of the Irish Free State, and with citizens in every walk of life, I was told that:

(1) Eire will defend her neutrality and her bases from encroachment by any and all belligerents.

(2) Eire will not yield the bases to America any more quickly than to Great Britain or Germany.

(3) Eire wants no part of this war which she views as a war of two imperialisms.

(4) Eire is not pro-German. The British press itself agrees with Prime Minister De Valera's estimate that from 80 to 90 per cent of the people sympathize with the Allied cause.

(5) Eire distrusts both Great Britain and Prime Minister Churchill from traditional causes.

(6) Eire is prepared to deal sternly with internal as well as external elements threatening her neutrality. She has just passed what amounts to a drumhead court-marshal law to deal with remnants of the out-lawed Irish Republican Army, which has long waged its own war against Great Britain.

POLITICAL SITUATION

There is only one way to understand Mr. De Valera's denunciation of the arrival of our troops in North Ireland.

The crux of the sensitive Irish situation is the partition of Eire and Ulster.

For 20 years, Mr. De Valera has worked for the union of North and South Ireland, denying the de jure status of partition. If he had permitted the arrival of American troops in Ulster to go unchallenged, it would have been a denial of everything to which he has devoted his political life.

Indeed, it is not too much to say that De Valera's political future hinged on a strong protest against the arrival in Ulster of American soldiers. Certainly during my days in Eire, I talked to no one who was not 100 per cent behind the prime minister in his protest.

"You wouldn't stand for the landing of foreign troops on American soil, would you?" Eire patriots asked me time and again.

And when I answered "No," they inevitably added:

"Then you know how we feel about your troops in North Ireland."

(Tomorrow: Eire's position regarding her naval bases.)

Pippy, Spared Death of Chicken Thief, Happy With New Owners

CITY FAMILY ADOPTS CHICKEN-RAIDING PUP

While perched on a porch, gazing intently at a neighbor's chicken pen in anticipation of another of the raids for which he was doomed to die, "Pippy" the pup was adopted by new masters today and promised an acquittal.

The little black and white collie was taken by the Loftin family of Armadine st., Dorchester, from Mrs. Elizabeth Patterson, of Sharon, who said that while her six children loved the dog dearly, they were willing to give him away to spare him the death of a chicken thief.

"He looked as if he wanted a chicken dinner, just like Mrs. Patterson wrote," said 10-year-old Rita Loftin, one of the seven Loftin children who now become Pippy's new masters.

"When I thought of him being killed if he should steal one, I promised myself to treat him kind forever," she continued.

The Loftins were one of more than 300 families who had volunteered to take the dog.

As soon as he arrived at his new home in Dorchester, "Pippy" went for a romp with his seven new owners; Rita, Evelyn, 12; Helen, 6; Margaret, 11; Dickie, 3; Dorothy, 8 and Donald, 6.

"I think he will forget chickens," said Dorothy.

CIO Urges F. D. Free Browder

WORCESTER, March 2 — After one of the stormiest conventions in its short history, the Massachusetts CIO today was on record as approving of officers who are not citizens—and also the release by President Roosevelt of Communist Earl Browder.

The convention was thrown into turmoil just at the closing hour when Miss Mamie B. Santora of Leominster offered her resolution which would provide that all CIO officers in this state must be citizens.

Hardly had the cheers died down, when officials attempted to place the motion on the table. Blocked here, they submitted it to a voice vote which was taken three times.

VOTE CHALLENGED

Joseph Salerno, president of CIO in Massachusetts pleaded against its adoption, declaring it was discriminatory and not democratic. He then announced that the motion had been defeated by a voice vote although shouts challenging his decision rang out.

The resolution seeking presidential pardon for Browder was unanimous.

Browder is serving a four-year term for falsification of a passport.

Asserting that the convention already had recorded itself in favor of an all-out united effort of all the people to defeat Hitler, the resolution said that Browder had served one year of an "excessive term on a technical passport violation," and added:

URGES WAR EFFORT

"In accordance with traditional American civil liberties, we therefore urge upon President Roosevelt that he exercise Executive clemency for Browder and for all anti-Fascists."

"However, the Massachusetts CIO does not endorse any of the political philosophies of Browder or the Communist party."

The convention also urged all locals to set up active production committees to co-operate with management to insure maximum production so Massachusetts workers could turn out the materials of war "in a torrent that shall swamp and destroy the Axis."

Teachers See Big Saving in Small Classes

Over-sized school classes are costing the city of Boston about $429,210 for re-educating children who are not promoted, Miss Marie L. Burke, president of the Boston Junior Elementary Teachers' Club, revealed today.

Her statement advocated the reduction of classes in grades four, five and six from 42 pupils to 35 pupils, and proposed permanent appointment of 90 teachers who have been holding positions under "temporary" rating.

Total Moon Eclipse Visible Here Tonight

As if in keeping with the times, the moon will stage a blackout tonight with an eclipse which will become total at 8:21. At 7:33, the first trace of the earth's shadow will be discernible on the moon's face. Slowly, the deep copper-red shadow will spread, giving New Englanders a rare celestial show.

Even at the height of the eclipse, the outline of the moon will be faintly visible through the earth's deep shadow. The eclipse will end at 11:15 p. m.

MOTHER DIES AFTER SAVING SON IN FIRE

A Salem mother who went to the aid of her young son died at Salem Hospital today of burns suffered when flames swept their home on Naples rd., Salem.

The victim was Mrs. Delphine Jennings, 33, whose son, John, 10, and husband, Joseph W. Jennings, Boston and Salem attorney, also were injured. All three were carried out over ladders by firemen.

Two daughters, Patricia, 14, and Cathleen, 12, escaped from their second floor bedroom, along with Mrs. S. J. Allen, occupant on the first floor.

But the father and son were trapped in an attic room and Mrs. Jennings, hearing the boy's screams ran through flames instead of saving herself.

The trio were trapped in the attic when firemen arrived and ran ladders to a small window, through which they were carried down ladders to a waiting ambulance.

CELINA E. BARRETT, 4

Child Roams In Court at Adoption Fight

Little Celina Elizabeth Barrett was the center of all the dispute but—least concerned of any—she roamed around Middlesex Probate Court today, muching crackers and hugging her doll.

Blonde, blue-eyed and four and a half years old, Betty is the subject of an adoption battle which opened today before Judge Arthur E. Beane.

Mrs. Emily Pride, 40, of Center ave., Belmont, who has had the child since she was three weeks old, seeks to adopt Betty, but the petition is opposed by the baby's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Barrett of Bostonia ave., Somerville.

Mrs. Pride told Judge Bean the baby was left in September, 1937, by a friend of the mother who said $5 a week would be paid for the child's support.

"I have received altogether only $60," said Mrs. Pride. "The last money I got—$25—was on Jan. 19, 1938.

"Except for the clothes the baby had worn when she came—and they lasted until she was seven months old, I've never been supplied with clothes for her."

In all the four and a half years, declared the witness, the mother has visited her daughter only three times.

Last November when she wrote Mrs. Barrett something should be done about the baby's future, the mother said she knew of a home where Betty could be placed without charge, Mrs. Pride said.

"I said that if there was going to be any adoption, I should have first choice," he testified.

Under cross-examination, Mrs Pride admitted Mrs. Barrett had said she never would allow anyone to have the baby.

2 ELOPERS FIND LOVE IS FICKLE, SUE

SALEM, March 2—Mrs. Helen (Hines) Goode of Intervale ave., Saugus, testified in Probate Court today her husband, Walter R. L. Goode, was a brush manufacturer, and gave her "the brush off" the day they married in November, 1938.

Charging desertion, she told Judge John V. Phelan:

"He told me he wanted to be frank; that he still loved me and wanted to be friends, but that he really was in love with another girl and had married me to spite her."

She testified they eloped to Seabrook, N. H., after an acquaintance of only a month, and that on that same day they returned to their parents' homes. She said she "waited and waited" for him to start a home, but that he continually dodged the matter.

Her petition and those of two other women and a man were taken under advisement.

An annulment was sought by 18-year-old Mrs. Eleanor (Stevens) Curtis of Marion st., Lynn, on the grounds that she married her high-school sweetheart, Laurence E. Curtis, Jr., 21, when she was 16.

They also eloped, she said, to Seabrook in October, 1940, and Curtis, then 18, induced her to give her age as 18.

Afterwards, she testified of spending months trying to persuade him to make a home for her, and finally he quit high school and got a job. But then he began going with another girl "and told me to stay out of his sight," she said.

Desertion was grounds for a suit brought by Mrs. Isabel B. Ackley of Amesbury against Laurence E. Ackley who, she testified, never returned to her after taking his mother to her home following Thanksgiving dinner in 1937.

They were married in 1921, she said. She asked custody of four children.

William Baschuk, Peabody grocer, sought a divorce on grounds of desertion. He testified that "other guys" probably were the reason why his wife packed up and left in November, 1938.

MDC Building Has Raid Test

A surprise air raid test, set off by Governor Saltonstall, sent more than 100 Simmons College girls and 650 employes of the Metropolitan District Commission scurrying to safety today on the fourth and fifth floors of the nine-story MDC building in Somerset st.

The governor pulled the switch that sounded the alarm in the MDC building, and, at the same time, the Simmons College girls, social service and secretarial students, were similarly notified in nearby buildings in Allston and Somerset sts.

The Simmons girls swiftly filed out of classrooms and along the street to the MDC building, thence climbing the stairs to the 4th and 5th floors, where danger from bombs is less than on the top or lower floors.

The Governor declared the test a success.

Husband and Wife Half His Age Make Up Again

Everything seemed cleared up today for the Swansons of Roslindale, when Ernest K. Swanson, 49, and his 22-year-old wife left West Roxbury court arm in arm after she had withdrawn an assault and battery charge.

MRS. LORETTA SWANSON

Swanson, who testified a year ago in a separate support hearing that he married the girl after ending a romance with her mother, was first in court Feb. 16 on the assault and battery charge. He pleaded not guilty and the case was continued until today for disposition.

But today the lawyer for Mrs. Loretta Barry Swanson, former nurse at Boston State Hospital, told Judge Daniel W. Casey that the couple were living together again and had adjusted their differences, the wife wishing to drop the charge.

Judge Casey questioned her, and she agreed with what the lawyer had said, and added that Swanson had "promised to behave."

Last June the life lost the separate support suit, Probate Judge John V. Mahoney dismissing her petition and telling her he believed Swanson had done everything required of him and that it was her duty to follow her husband home.

Swanson had testified to keeping company with her mother, Mrs Mary Barry, Commonwealth ave., Allston, widow, and Loretta had testified that he went out several times with her mother before the marriage.

MARSHALL WARNS AIR RAIDS LIKELY

Washington, March 2 (AP)—The Senate passed and sent back to the House a $32,762,747,900 military appropriations bill today after being informed by Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, that the United States must carry the war to the enemy.

Approval of the measure on a voice vote came quickly after Sen. Austin (R.) of Vermont, had read to the Senate a letter from Marshall explaining that the Army must disregard some pleas for soldiers to guard continental installations because it could not permit "the greater portion of our armed forces and our valuable material to be immobilized within the United States."

Forecasting isolated air raids on this country, Gen. Marfshall said such forays might constitute a part of a plan to prevent American efforts to "engage our planes and ground troops as for as practicable offensively in distant theaters."

"The time has now come," the letter said, "when we must proceed with the business of carrying the war to the enemy and not permitting the greater portion of our armed forces and our valuable material to be immobilized within continental United States.

"The enemy, calculating on public reactions, is undoubtedly employing submarines close in shore for the purpose of restraining our efforts to engage our planes and ground troops so far as practicable, offensively in distant theaters.

"Further, I feel that we must expect isolated air raids of a few planes directed against us for no other purpose than to create a public reaction which will adversely affect the sound military purpose of defending America by engaging and defeating the enemy in theaters distant from our shores."

Court Hears El Audit Plea

The full bench of the Massachusetts Supreme Court today took under advisement the petition of State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley to compel the trustees of the Boston Elevated to permit him to examine the books of the road.

The hearing was based on exceptions made by the state auditor from the ruling of Supreme Court Justice Stanley E. Qua, who dismissed the petition in January on the grounds that the state auditor did not have the authority to make such an audit.

Atty. William Shaw McCallum, representing Buckley, contended that operation of the Elevated by the trustees is a state activity because the state guarantees dividends to stockholders.

McCallum argued that the Department of Public Utilities merely has the duty of seeing that carrier companies obey the law.

Atty. Willis P. Downey, for the trustees, contended that the court had no jurisdiction in the case because it was not brought by the attorney general.

Brain Operation To Save Youth

Specialists at City Hospital prepared today to perform a rare brain operation on John A. Sinowski, 18, of Antwerp st., Cambridge, in an effort to save the life of the youth, critically injured in a mysterious attack.

Failing to respond to treatment in Cambridge, he was transferred to Boston for his life-or-death operation. Meanwhile, Cambridge authorities are pressing a search for his assailants.

The boy, employed in a Cambridge rubber factory, was found outside the plant Friday night by the watchman, Harry McCarthy, and removed to Cambridge City Hospital in a terribly battered condition. He had evidently been bludgeoned and kicked unmercifully.

He has never regained consciousness and could thus give police no help in locating his assailants.

will be another evidence of the state-wide CO-OPERATION which will assure MASSACHUSETTS of a place of honor on the roll of states when FINAL VICTORY is won.

Mr. Burns wrote further that "over 12 weeks ago, members of the ice cream refrigeration department of the Boston ice cream branch formed a BOND CLUB, and with weekly contributions are purchasing BONDS, Members of the Milk Route Sales organization also are participating through the direct purchase of STAMPS in milk branch offices.

"Employes of H. P. Hood and Sons endorse the Boston Record-American, Sunday Advertiser BUY BOMBERS WITH BONDS campaign. The BOND CLUB joins in this endorsement and pledges their continued support."

BUY BONDS FOR MASSACHUSETTS BOMBERS!

The exact figure to date is $15,952,181, more than enough to pay for 62 BOMBERS, many of which will be identified with MASSACHUSETTS.

SPEEDS DAY OF VICTORY

But, remember, there's no goal in this campaign except FINAL and COMPLETE VICTORY over the Axis.

That takes BOMBERS in huge quantities. Not 60 . . . not 100, 500, or even 5000 . . . but unnumbered BOMBERS.

BONDS WILL BUY BOMBERS.

The more bonds and stamps Massachusetts buys the closer comes the day of victory. Perhaps some day in the not-too-distant future a communique from the fighting front will read:

"The Jap battleship MIKADO was sunk today by a MASSACHUSETTS BOMBER."

Could any loyal Massachusetts citizen ask more for his purchases of BONDS and STAMPS? And, furthermore, every BOND and STAMP purchased to buy BOMBERS is redeemable with interest.

The greatest government in the world stands behind every bond and stamp. Financiers, labor organizations, fraternal and religious groups, always careful in their investment activities, wholeheartedly and without reservation endorse BONDS and STAMPS!

Anti-Aircraft Firing To Start on Cape

The 36th Coast Artillery Brigade today announced plans for anti-aircraft firing and warned all users of boats, ships and aircraft to stay clear of the vicinity of Scobton Neck, Sandwich, for the week March 3 to March 10, inclusive.

The danger zone extends 10 miles off shore bounded on the east by a line running due north from Sandy Neck Light and on the west by a line joining Horn Light and Monemet Point.

5000 More Pins, Member Cards, Mailed to Army

Another 5000 Junior Army insignia pins and red, white and blue membership cards, were being mailed today to New England recruits. Last week the initial shipment of 5000 received from the factory was distributed to the first 5000 boys and girls who enrolled. With distribution of the second lot of 5000 today, all but 3000 members will have received their pins and cards. The third lot is expected to be mailed later in the week.

Terrorized Thousands Flee Burma for India

By DANIEL DE LUCE

ON THE PEGU FRONT, Burma, by Courier to Mandalay, Feb. 28 (Delayed (AP)—"The bad men are cutting us with long knives."

Thus, with pleading faces and dark hands uplifted in a gesture of prayer, peasants leading an ox-cart migration of 4000 Indians from the Pegu district tell me of bandits on their long, perilous trek up the Burma road.

For more than a mile this swarming dusty caravan of refugees—wooden axles screeching, [illegible] shouting at flocks wandering among the big wheeled carts—covers the highway like a blanket of sad humanity.

There are 4000 souls here but they are only a fraction of the [illegible] Indians in Burma, most of whom now seek the safety of their homeland.

WAILS OF ANGUISH

Correspondents en route to the front in American "jeeps" must wait half an hour to clear a narrow driveway through them.

In halting English, lean, tired guides with home-made spears and swords and only bits of gray cotton cloth around their loins, call for help.

"Sahib, we have no money, little food and water. We must keep moving without rest. If any of us stray the bad men with long knives attack and rob and kill," they say.

"Won't His Majesty's government protect us, sahib?"

In the countryside, where there no longer are police, looting is rampant and Indian laborers, who always were hated by the Burmese national extremists, now are the undefended victims of whatever bands care to ambush them during their snail's pace plod northward.

STORK IN REFUGE SWARM

They can go only a few miles a day yet they have 400 miles to Mandalay and then 250 more difficult miles westward to the Indian border.

Babies have been born on this migration since last week. Their mothers ride in straw piles on the carts.

Stubbled Paddy Fields are the camp sites at night, set up in the fashion of American pioneers of the west with the carts rutted around for security.

Junior Army Lesson Helps Care of Feet

Below is the sixth lesson on Physical Fitness, especially prepared for the Junior Victory Army by Joe McKenney, associate director, physical education, Boston public schools.

By JOE McKENNEY

LESSON SIX

"A sound mind in a sound body" should be the aim and objective of every youth, and every member of the Junior Army should start today to make his body stronger from the tip of his toes to the top of his head.

Defective feet are a menace to your good health. Foot growth is attained early in life. Therefore, the earlier you begin to strengthen your feet, the better and stronger they will be.

A building is only as sound as its foundation. Your body is only as sound as your legs and feet. The following exercises will strengthen your feet so that you will have a good foundation for your body. Do all of these exercises in your bare feet.

POINT TOES IN

1—Walk a straight line feet pigeon toed—pointing your toes in will strengthen your feet; pointing your toes out will weaken them.

2—Curl your toes under, contracting and relaxing alternately the muscles of the feet, rolling your weight to the outside of the foot.

3—The "rocking' exercise, with heels raising and sinking, your toes turned in slightly and your weight on the outer side of the feet.

4—Cross one leg over your knee. Hold your knee so that all movement comes from your foot. Now describe a half circle with your foot—down, in and up.

5—Place a marble, pencil or golf ball on the floor. Practice picking up the articles by curling your toes.

GRIP WITH TOES

6—Place a thick book on the floor and stand on it with your toes over the edge. Keeping your weight on the outer sides of your feet, try to grip the side of the book.

All foot exercises must be done regularly to prove beneficial. If these exercises do not strengthen your feet, by all means see a competent physician. Exercise will never cure a structural fault in a foot.

Your shoes are very important to your health. Be sure you wear shoes of correct design and fit.

The next Physical Fitness lesson will appear in tomorrow's Evening American. Don't miss it.

Pretty Boy Posters Out for Army, Navy

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—Uncle Sam's soldiers and sailors are going to be more rugged in future paintings and drawings.

ECONOMY OUT OF FARM BILL SENT SENATE

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN

WASHINGTON, March 2 (INS)—Ignoring economy recommendations and boosting President Roosevelt's budget request for farm spending, a House appropriations sub-committee today sent the $835,000,000 agricultural supply bill to the floor, where a heated fight is expected.

Drafted after lengthy secret hearings by the agriculture sub-committee, the measure carried additional direct authorizations which may increase farm expenditures $212,000,000 over the President's request, and swept aside recommendations by the Byrd economy committee that $150,000,000 be saved by abolishing the federal security agency and the farm tenant program.

While the legislation reduces direct appropriations by $423,000,000 under last year's spending, it headed for a tough session because of boiling charges of maladministration and extravagance in the Agriculture Department and indignation over "farm bloc" pressure.

Presaging a floor fight, the committee report on the bill took issue with Secretary of Agriculture Wickard's proposals to sell surplus agricultural commodities at less than parity levels.

On the other hand, urban members struck out at "Communist" influences in the administration of farm-aid programs, particularly in the establishment of collective or co-operative farms.

Maj. Eliot Says:

Jap Drive on India Via Burma Doubtful

BY MAJ. GEORGE FIELDING ELIOT

Exclusive

The Japanese advance in Burma continues and the British situation there becomes more difficult daily. Successive British defense lines on the Salween and Bilin rivers have been overrun and now the British are fighting along the Sitan river, which the Japanese appear to have also crossed

Maj. G. F. Eliot

The encirclement of Rangoon is threatened and that great seaport has been stripped of its military stores and establishments. What could not be taken away has been reported destroyed more thoroughly it is to be hoped than at Penang and elsewhere in Malaya.

The Japanese are reported at one point only five miles from the Rangoon-Lashio railway feeder for the famous Burma Road. Other Japanese forces are reported in Northern Thailand preparing for an invasion directed toward Mandalay, though in this part of the country the terrain presents tremendous difficulties, so that the Japanese may not be able to move rapidly.

CHINESE ARE MASSING

This Japanese concentration is perhaps to be defensive in character since Chinese troops are massing for a drive on Chiengmar, a move which will threaten the flank and rear of the Japanese invading forces farther south.

If Rangoon falls the Japanese will not only have cut the Burma Road, they will also deprive the British of their only remaining defended port in this area. When troops are available the Japanese could then proceed with the cleaning up of Dutch forces in northern and central Sumatra and with this accomplished they would be in full possession of the Strait of Malacca and would have at least one clear route of access to the Bay of Bengal and the Indian Ocean.

CALCUTTA IN PERIL

The great Indian ports of Calcutta and Madras and the Island of Ceylon would then be in grave peril, and access to them by sea seriously impeded if not altogether cut off. Ceylon would become a base position of vital importance and if the British could hold it it would still impose a check on Japanese naval operations; but if it should fall into Japanese hands it is difficult to see how British shipping could reach India at all, for then Japanese raiders could then operate without much difficulty in the Arabian gulf blockading Bombay, Calicut and Karachi.

A direct overland advance by the Japanese from Burma against India is always a possibility. Yet there are no roads and railways, the terrain is exceedingly mountainous and rugged and long preparation would be required.

SETBACK IN THAILAND

Strategically, the most serious effect of the Japanese successes in Burma seems likely to be an Allied counter-offensive into Thailand, directed toward cutting off Japanese positions on the Malay peninsula.

If strong Allied forces could be built up in Burma, as might have been possible with the passage of time, such a thrust would have presented most attractive possibilities when there was sufficient arms, planes and equipment for it.

But Burma is just as inaccessable from India as India is from Burma, and if the Japanese succeed in capturing important centers in Burma it may prove a long and bloody business to dislodge them from that country.

WAR TAX BILL OF 9 BILLION NOW LOOMS

By GRIFFING BANCROFT

International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 2—On the eve of long-awaited congressional consideration of the record war tax bill, a strong move developed among Democratic members of the House Ways and Means committee today to increase President Roosevelt's revenue program by another $2,000,000,000.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau is slated to appear before the committee tomorrow with detailed suggestions as to how the presidentially requested $7,000,000,000 in general war taxes can best be imposed.

While details of the Treasury's forthcoming tax proposals were not available as yet, officials said the recommendations will include:

Raising personal income taxes from the present starting rate of about 10 per cent—the rates payable March 15—to 20 or 25 per cent, with similar increases up the line, and with provision for collecting at the source, I. E. deductions from payrolls or other incomes. This is expected to raise some $2,500,000,000 in new revenue.

Sharply increasing corporation income taxes and excess profits levies to raise between $2,500,000,000 and $2,750,000,000.

Broaden the number of commodities subject to excise taxes, and increase the rates to raise about $1,000,000,000.

Plug loopholes and increase estate and gift taxes to raise between $750,000,000 and $1,000,000,000.

Committee Chairman Doughton (D.) of North Carolina, himself, has refused to be bound by the President's figure of $7,000,000 000, stating "we must raise as much as we reasonably can it may be more than that or it may be less."

Jap Invasion Force Drives on Bandoeng

Americans, who with Australians and British made up some thousands of reinforcements for a slim Dutch army variously estimated at from 100,000 to 250,000.

Indicating that a crucial stage had been reached in the plans of the Dutch defenders, the Netherlands command said nothing concerning the landing fighting.

But for all eyes to see was the stream of taxicabs and camouflaged trucks loaded with green-clad Dutch and Malayan reserve troops which rumbled down the volcanic slopes toward the northern coastal plains.

REPORT JAPS TRAPPED

There the invaders had established footholds in three places on Saturday night.

(A Reuters dispatch to London from Java said there was reason to believe that in the counter-attack the Allied troops already had cut off the Japanese column which had penetrated 40 miles inland to Soebang, within 30 miles of Bandoeng.)

Aneta, Dutch news agency, said the Japanese had attempted no more landings on the island since last night, and a special communique of the high command pointed to the probability that the terrific hammering of Dutch and American planes may have upset the Japanese schedule of reinforcement.

The communique said a smashing attack by Dutch fighter planes Sunday sank nearly every one of the heavily-laden barges engaged in landing men and tanks from 20 transports near Rembang.

Swooping low with light bombs and machine guns, the fighting planes overturned and sank the barges, set afire tanks which had been put ashore on the beaches and caused others to be dropped into the water, the communique said.

DUTCH LIST NAVAL SUCCESS

It was this beachhead near Rembang which threatened Soerabaja, the Dutch naval base at the eastern end of the island.

The extensive fleet of Dutch torpedo boats also has gone into action, along with submarines, to extend the toll of 27 Japanese transports and warships sunk, damaged, beached, or burned out, the communique disclosed.

The communique said one torpedo boat had sunk a flotilla leader, adding one to yesterday's total of 26 ships sunk or damaged of the approximately 50 transports and 20 warships sent by the Japanese on this expedition.

By flotilla leader, Navy men usually mean a large destroyer used by the commander of a group of destroyers.

Allied planes continued strong in the air, maintaining a continuous "ferry service" with bombs between their bases and the beachheads, and driving off enemy planes which caused two air raid alarms here this morning.

ALLIES SEIZE OFFENSIVE

The Japanese planes apparently were attempting to operate from distant bases in Sumatra, Bali and Borneo, and they were able to give their troops little support.

To combat the column which had driven in from Indramajo toward Bandoeng, all but military traffic was ruled off the roads and it was all moving in one direction—toward the front.

"In the present phase of the battle against the invasion no particulars can be given about the development of the action," the communique said.

To impede the Japanese the Dutch were demolishing bridges and railways everywhere along the line of the enemy advance, putting into operation long-rehearsed plans.

Carrying out the scorched earth policy they had followed earlier in Celebes, Borneo, Sumatra and Bali, the Dutch put the torch to everything of value where they were forced to retreat.

relating to procurement, storage and issue.

Officers now in charge of branches transferred by the order will hold their offices until reassigned to "suitable" duties.

OFFICERS IN COMMAND

They are: Lieut.-Gen. Arnold commander of the air forces; Lieut. Gen. Lesley J. McNair, commander of the groudn forces, and, Maj.-Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, head of the supply service.

The order is effective March 9 and will remain in force during the war and for six months thereafter.

It further authorized the Secretary of War to prescribe such functions, duties and powers of the commanders of the various forces and commands of the Army of the United States and the agencies of the War Department and to issue such detailed instructions regarding personnel, funds, records, property, routing of correspondence and other matters as may be necessary to carry out the order.

"Such duties by the Secretary of War," the order said, "are to be performed subject always to the exercise by the President directly through the chief-of-staff of his functions as commander-in-chief in relation to strategy, tactics and operations."

The President's [illegible] authority vested in him by the first war powers act, approved Dec. 18.

Rise in Coal Prices Seen for New England

Increased cost of maritime transportation because of the war today brought prediction of increases in the price of bituminous or soft coal from Allen M. MacLeod, fair trade advisor to the major coal merchants of New England.

MacLeod based his prediction on increases in war risk insurance and seamen's wages and the overall cost of seagoing transportation with the explanation that 65 per cent of the soft coal reaching New England is brought here by water.

Happier Era for Mankind Looms

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

SEATTLE, Wash., Sunday—I was happy to have our son, Franklin, Jr., and his wife lunch with me on Friday in New York City. He is still rather weak from his appendectomy, and the doctors tell me it will be a little while before he can return to his destroyer. Destroyer duty in winter requires great physical activity, and, since he has not been home since some time in October, we are rejoicing in having a chance to see him, even though one never likes to go through operations.

On Friday afternoon I saw a number of people in New York City, and in the evening I started by air for Seattle, Wash. We seem to have an epidemic of appendix operations in the family, for I heard that our daughter, Anna, was to be operated on Monday morning.

I imagine every mother feels a particularly close tie with her daughters. Fortunately for me, my son-in-law, and the children in his family, have grown very close to me, and we want to be together both in times of anxiety and happiness.

I cannot help being tremendously grateful for the fact that I am able to go to my children when they need me. I know so many mothers who go through great anxiety when, for financial reasons very often, they cannot bridge the space which lies between them and their children.

The only day on which I shall regret not being able to be home this week is the fourth of March, for the President always feels that there is a spiritual significance attached to that day. Nevertheless I think that out here, and in every home in the country, we can think back to the inauguration day of 1933, and the difficulties which faced us then, and say a prayer in our hearts.

WE HAVE COME through many difficulties and made some dent on the solution of the problems which faced us then. We will, I am sure, continue to have steadfastness and courage to go through this even greater crisis and meet the unknown future with undaunted determination to carry through to a happier era for mankind.

I never cross the continent by air without being grateful for this method of transportation, which makes space so insignificant.

Traveling is always an opportunity for me not only to read, which is a refreshing stimulant but also to look at the vastness of our nation and reflect upon our tremendous opportunities which we are not yet using to full advantage.

Salmon Roll

On fish days during Lent, serve a delectable Salmon Roll. To make it, roll out a recipe of biscuit dough to a rectangle about ½ inch thick. Spread with a mixture of salmon, sharp-grated cheese, chopped onion, and milk. Season to suit the taste. Roll up jelly roll fashion and bake to an even toast brown in a hot oven (400 deg. F.) about 45 minutes. Other fish such as tuna may be substituted for the salmon with equally tasteful results. Tomato sauce is good over this economy special.

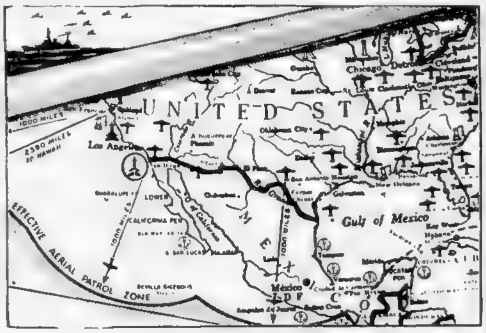
War Map in Color
Follow Army, Navy Activities



FULL SIZE OF MAP 20 BY 27 INCHES

Every day new and unheard-of-places are in the war headlines! Where will our Army and Navy fight next? Where will Hitler make his next drive? How far are we from his bombers?

With our new World War map you can find answers to many puzzling questions.

The section of map shown here gives the location of naval bases (the small black warships) along our Western coastline.

Our one large naval operating base on the Coast is shown with a ship in a white circle, at San Diego.

Strategic points over the whole world are given in our new war map, prepared by Boston Evening American. It includes also a Western Hemisphere Defense Map and one of the Far East. Shows all nations in color; gives air distances, important war facts. Size 20 by 27 inches.

Send 15c (plus one cent to cover cost of mailing) for our war map, "Military and Naval Map of World War II," to Boston Evening American, Home Institute, 109 West 19th st., New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, address, and the name of map.

Beauty

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL—Bette Davis' hair could be classified as naturally being one of the exquisite blonde "topaz" shades which Arline Gould today says are tops in smartness and beauty. Through a new method of "blonding" hair tones are not only changed, but the hair itself is reconditioned and brightened.

FOUR SMART TOPAZ TINTS IN NEW OIL LIGHTENER

By ARLINE GOULD

IT'S IN THE latest smart set news from the South . . . that Barbara Hutton Reventlow has changed the shade of her hair to topaz blonde . . . a deeper, more subtle and jewel-like tone than it was before. They say it's breath-takingly becoming . . . and . . . if we needed any . . . it's further proof that this sensational development in hair coloring is being snatched up by the smartest of beauty-seeking girls, from debutante to cafe society notable to stage celebrity

Oddly enough, the topaz range of blonde shades (there are four of them, all achieved by a special oil lightener which is neither a tint nor a dye) is anything but showy . . . it's spectacularly beautiful in a natural way, with emphasis on exquisiteness of tint and a high, gleaming luster

This method of "blonding," as it's called, is to be had in salons . . . but it has also been put together in simplified form for home use! And 50 cents is the amazingly small price . . . for the oil lightener which brightens, conditions as it lightens.

Consider the proof of its really good effect on your hair . . . after it's used you may go blithely on with a permanent, knowing it will be successful. Recalling old-fashioned bleaching and its hazards, you can marvel at that!

Of the four topaz tints, we rather think that the Reventlow took "smoke topaz," which is a clear, light blonde tint without golden or reddish highlights. If you have mousy brown hair this is wonderful for it

"Gold topaz" adds sparkling, golden highlights; "madeira topaz" is marvelous for dark-haired girls who like winey glints of red in their hair. On lighter hair it gaves a warm chestnut tone. And "rose topaz" is a gay approximation of natural strawberry blonde!

To learn all about this "blonding" oil conditioner, phone Arline Gould, LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NEWS FOR MODERN WOMEN

• FOOD •

By Martha Lee

WHEN YOU NOTICE APPETITES lagging in your family do you know what to do about it? Pre-spring weather may be the cause, but that shouldn't disturb you, for that's the time for homemakers to introduce more fresh fruit salads and desserts dishes with plenty of appetite appeal that only tangy, fresh flavors can give.

Large-size navel oranges on the market this season will help to accomplish these aims, and more, too. Oranges supply natural fruit sugars. They are grand for appetizers, salads, desserts, or when used in combination for sweetening other foods. Often when oranges or orange juice are used in a recipe no additional sugar is added. Orange juice now replaces other beverages that require sweetening

Many cooks have a section in their recipe files just for navel orange uses. Here are additional, inexpensive, tested recipes to add to the group. None of these recipes call for sugar

Try using the large-size oranges for the following recipes because they're most plentiful now and they're the "best buys," since less fruits are needed for a determined amount of juice or meat

ECONOMY FRUIT CUP

1 cup orange sections
¾ cup orange juice
1 cup long, slender, red-skinned apple pieces (unpeeled)
½ cup shredded dates
2 tbsp. lemon juice

Combine ingredients Serve very cold. Makes 6 to 8 servings. For dessert, serve larger portions.

ORANGE NUT BREAD

2 tbsp. butter
1 cup honey
1 egg
2¼ cups all-purpose flour
3 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
1 cup all-bran cereal
1 cup orange juice
1 tsp. grated orange peel
¾ cup nut meats

Blend butter and honey. Add egg and beat well. Sift together the dry ingredients. Take out about one-half cup and mix with the nut meats. Add about half the dry ingredients to the egg and honey mixture and incorporate well. Add all-brand cereal and orange juice and peel, then remaining flour and the nut meats. Pour into a well-greased loaf pan, the bottom of which has been lined with wax paper. Bake in a moderate oven (300 to 325 deg. F.) for 1¼ hours

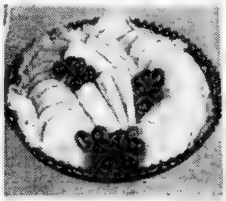
CHOPS WITH ORANGE

6 lamb, veal or pork chops
Melted butter
Sliced oranges
Salt, pepper and paprika

Trim fat from thick chops and dip in melted butter. Oil broiler well and broil chops 8 minutes Turn and place a thick slice of peeled orange on each chop. Broil 8 or 10 minutes longer. Sprinkle generously with the seasonings. Serves hot. Makes 6 servings

It is recommended that we eat one salad of fresh vegetables or fruit daily. This rule, given by one of the country's foremost nutritionists several years ago, is still an excellent one. In winter days, however, it is sometimes difficult to find these "fresh" vegetables and fruits. Lettuce, cabbage and celery we now have the year around Winter fresh fruits are provided, too, in apples, avocados, bananas, grapes and oranges

A decorative and appetite appealing combination of "fresh" winter fruits is found in the pictured salad. A shallow salad bowl is lined with crisp lettuce. Banana fingers and grape clusters are then centered on it within an encircling ring of orange slices. Grapes add contrast to this plate, but may be replaced by cherries or any other colorful fruit in season.



DELICIOUS winter fruit salad bowl with sweet French dressing.

To slice oranges, remove outer skin and membrane down to juicy meat. Cut with a sharp knife in even slices. Save the juice that escapes in slicing the oranges and dip banana fingers in it to keep them light.

An excellent dressing for this or any fruit salad is:

SWEET FRENCH DRESSING

½ cup lemon juice
½ cup salad oil
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. paprika
2 tbsp. sugar
¼ cup red jelly

Shake or beat well before serving

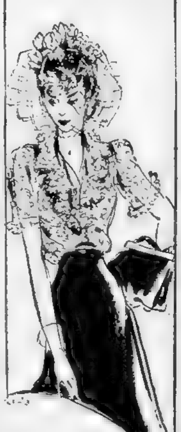
YOUR BLOUSE WITH SUIT MAY BE SOFT, FRILLY

By BETTINA BEDWELL

IT IS now evident that the biggest suit season in years and years is not going to be a severe and tailored looking season. The folks who design blouses and hats and other accessories that are going to be worn with such suits have taken care of that.



There is a customer-thirst for blouses that are exceedingly soft and frilly, so I'm told by the departments selling such things, and the designers, sensing this well in advance, are ready with a huge crop of this kind of waist.

Pastel colored blouses with jabots and soft and flattering collars are much wanted. Blouses made of eyelet embroidery in clear white and in color also are importantly demanded

And lace-trimmed waists are no less significant. A white cotton lace blouse, shown No. 1, is very popular, too. It is trimmed with narrow ruchings of white organdie, and the jabot collar can be worn closed or open in a deep V-shape.

To add to the prettiness of your suit-scape, a hat like the black paillaison toque from Madam Jeanne, also is smart This tip-titled model is trimmed with brilliant tulips and white shasta daisies and has a super coarse mesh veil to boot.

WAR CONDITIONS were the deciding factor in advancing the date of the marriage of Elizabeth Jane Nevins of Springfield, former Boston deb, and Lt. John Alexander Orb, 3d, which took place Saturday afternoon at Tampa, Fla. . . .

Betty, daughter of Mrs. Kirke Lewis Moses of Springfield and Roger W. Nevins of San Jose, Cal., was a debutante in the winter of 1938 and belongs to the Junior League . . . She is a granddaughter of Col. and Mrs. Charles Henry Tenney of Springfield and cousin of post deb Nancy Tenney, of Lexington, who was maid of honor at the wedding . . .

The ceremony was performed at 5:30 in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Tampa . . . The bride wore a gown of white Spanish lace, a veil of marquisette trimmed with matching lace, and carried a spray of white orchids . . . Nancy was dressed in pink marquisette and carried pink Rubrum lilies and purple iris . . .

Son of Mrs. John Monahan of San Antonio, Tex., and the late John Orb, 2d, the bridegroom was attended by his adopted father, Col. Monahan, as best man . . .

The Masked Jury

A FUSSY MAN

SHOULD HE MARRY?

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY: What would you do if you were about to marry a man and found that he was the image of a lot of things you didn't like? I was working in another city and met a man there. He proposed to me and I accepted.

Recently, I returned home and I have been able to observe him at close range. He has many sterling qualities but he is so fussy and fastidious he sometimes makes me scream. He is always going around rubbing his fingers over tables to see if there's dust on them. I am so shocked and surprised that I can hardly believe I became engaged to the same man.

When we go out to a restaurant he always examines the knives and forks to see if they are clean and he has to have everything served to him just so. He actually got the horrors the other day when I let my pet dog kiss me.

Feeling as I do, does the Masked Jury think I could be happy with this man? REGULAR GIRL.

HOW THE JURY VOTED
Women:	Yes, three;	No, three
Men:	Yes, one;	No, five

INTERIOR DECORATOR (woman): No, not in a thousand years. Apparently her temperament is just the opposite. It wouldn't last a week.

HOUSEWIFE: No. It would be impossible for them to get along if the cases were reversed, but a fussy man will drive a normal woman crazy.

BATTERY WORKER (man): No, and I don't blame her. Those kind of men are bound to get in your hair.

POLICE LIEUTENANT: No. She's finding too much wrong with him already. A year or so in the Army is what he needs.

TELEPHONE OPERATOR: Yes. He has probably been brought up by a fussy mother but I've never seen the man yet that the right woman couldn't reform.

FACTORY WORKER (woman): No. It's just too bad about him, not wanting to get his clothes mussed a little. I hope she doesn't marry him.

PARKING LOT ATTENDANT: Yes. There's nothing wrong in wanting to be neat. Some women want the world served up to them on a gold platter.

RADIO TECHNICIAN: No. Those fussy persons don't improve with age. They keep getting [illegible] set as they get older.

PLAYGROUND SUPERVISOR (woman): Yes. I think she is beginning to look for his faults and exaggerating them. What about all those "sterling qualities" she talks about?

Romance

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I'VE BEEN married for six years to one of the best husbands in the world. We have several rooms of lovely furniture, a car and we are buying our home. Soon after we were married I had to undergo a serious operation and therefore I may never have any children of my own.

My husband and I would like to adopt a baby, but my husband is afraid people will say he is trying to dodge the draft, which isn't true. What do you think about that? Please tell us how to go about adopting a baby.

I'm 25 years old, and my husband is going on 29. DOTTIE

Where would any of us be in the world if we stopped to consider what the Joneses were thinking about us? If you want to adopt a baby, nothing could bring greater happiness to a childless couple than having one of these angelic imps about the house. Don't worry about the reactions of the neighbors.

You will have to apply to some organization that has children for adoption. You must prove you're of good moral character and can give the little one a comfortable home. If you belong to a church it might be well to consult your pastor about the first steps to be taken. My best wishes to you in this happy enterprise.

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON

Three Men of Family Inseparable in War Roles

Pals in War—Bombardier Doble (left) and his sons, Leslie and Frederick, only met at the breakfast and supper table in peacetime . . . but now, they're inseparable companions, all serving with the same gun team in London. Before war, Dad was a conductor, Leslie a builder, Frederick a furrier.

At War's Start—This action was photographed as the Japs sped to a landing on a beach of Luzon in invasion barges. A shell from one of the guns of Gen. MacArthur's defending forces shoots up spout of water near boat which seems to be towing a barge.

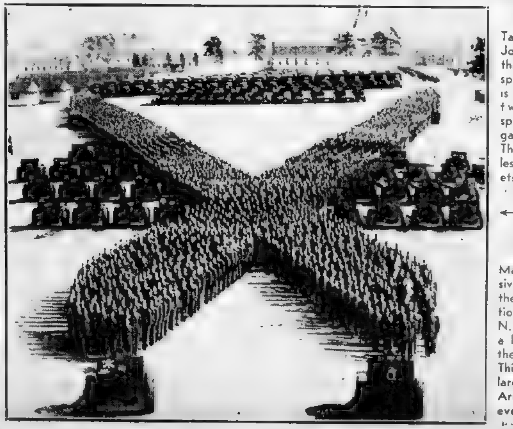
MARY'S CHOICE

It's Her Outfit for Spring Sports

Springy

Take it from Mary Jo James, this is just the thing for spring sports. The ensemble is composed of a two-piece plaid sports dress and a gabardine jacket. The latter is sleeveless, has patch pockets and belt.



Insignia

Making an impressive picture are these 5000 men stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., as they form a human insignia of the field artillery. This is one of the largest groups of Army manpower ever photographed.

OUR DAILY CITATION: To the thousands of young New Englanders who are enrolling in the Junior Victory Army. The work they are doing, the knowledge they are acquiring and the excellent example of patriotism they are setting are an important contribution to the nation's defense program.

THE CONGRESS, by votes of 75 to 5 in the Senate and 383 to 7 in the House of Representatives, has approved repeal of the "Pensions for Congressmen" measure to which there has been strong and justifiable objection.

This is a noteworthy victory for public opinion, although not a major victory.

When public opinion compels Congress to eliminate the two billion dollars in annual non-defense expenditures, which Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau has said is possible and desirable, a victory of real consequence may be claimed.

And when public opinion compels Congress to convert its already huge and burdensome appropriations for the war program to the actual equipment and installations sufficient to win the war, a truly major victory will have been achieved.

Moreover, when public opinion compels Congress to require recalcitrant and opportunist elements in labor and industry to perform services and make contributions to the war effort in the patriotic pattern of the services and contributions rendered by the armed forces, a really great victory will be accomplished.

If the people should assert themselves as vigorously and decisively in all vital matters of government and administration as they did in the relatively small matter of pensions for Congressmen, they would soon have better government.

In time of peace the people could by this means reduce and perhaps altogether eliminate wasteful and extravagant expenditures which result in grevious impairment of the national prosperity logically derivable from peace.

In time of war, such as the present, the people could by the same means prevent diversion of public funds from the war effort to costly channels of political squandering.

TRAVEL EXECUTIVES, meeting in New York City, have adopted a program designed to encourage pleasure trips next summer.

The program includes a proposal to enlist the support of industry and labor to obtain short-term vacations for all workers engaged in war production.

This campaign is highly important to New England, because the recreation industry is normally our biggest and most encouraging activity.

On its preservation depend the jobs of thousands of people and the existence of innumerable hotels, restaurants and amusement resorts.

To sacrifice these would be to impoverish a large portion of our population and to stop the flow of millions of dollars in tax revenue into municipal, county and State treasuries.

Remembering President Roosevelt's statement that, because of longer hours and harder work, the public should "have a chance for pleasure and for taking their minds off their work even more than before" and thinking of our own present and future welfare, we who live in New England should oppose every effort in Washington and elsewhere to make the recreation industry a war casualty.

THE MAN IN THE MOON has a blackout this evening, somewhere around 5:27 o'clock.

The blackout, known in more normal times as a lunar eclipse, will become total at 7:30 p. m., and this phase of the phenomenon will last for about three hours.

Observers will note that throughout this period the moon will be bathed in a dull red color, which with the passing of twilight will be increasingly visible.

In bygone years this was popularly regarded as "blood on the moon."

Everybody used to associate it with war and the wholesale slaughtering of human beings on earth.

And the amount of "blood on the moon" was supposed to fortell the length of an existing conflict.

We are wiser today. We do not blame our earthly trouble on any celestial body. And we look to the strength and shooting powers of our military equipment rather than to the innocent moon to determine how long a war will last.

Perhaps, some day, we shall become wiser still and not have any wars.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY, one of the largest in the entire United States, is practicing common sense financing, a very rare thing nowadays.

Despite a general increase in government costs, the Middlesex commissioners are announcing the smallest tax levy by the county in 14 years.

They achieved the reduction by eliminating statutory construction work, by slashing debt payments and by effecting other obvious economies.

As a result, Cambridge will save about $15,000; Lowell, $26,000; Medford, $22,000; Newton, $10,000; Somerville, $29,000; Waltham, $14,000; Everett, $19,000; Belmont, $13,000; Malden, $20,000, and Watertown, $14,000.

And, as a further result, these cities will find the war burden less onerous, and, when peace returns, they will be better able to cope with reconstruction, unemployment and other post-war problems.

All Massachusetts counties and our own city of Boston would do well to take a large leaf from Middlesex's book.

FILMDOM'S LOVELY KAY FRANCIS

Short, Plump Women Strive in Vain to Resemble Her

For it so falls out
That what we have we prize not the worth
While we enjoy it, but being lacked and lost.
Why then we rack the value; then we find
The virtue that our possession would not show us
When it was out.
—SHAKESPEARE.

ACTING on Mr. Shakespeare's hint, now is the time to "prize" your wife. This is also a good time to appreciate freedom of living and to go all out to hang on to it. Remember when we had peace in this country? And how we took it for granted? . . . Today is a wedding anniversary at our house. It was Euripides who quite truly said: "A man's best possession is a sympathetic wife" . . . Companies manufacturing air raid shelters will not be accorded priority. War officials say air raid shelters are not so important because the United States is to fight an "offensive war" . . . This is a good time to keep calm. But I do not blame those two Filipino boys in the West who became angry when they arrived at the draft board headquarters and were sharply questioned by a Japanese-American who was serving on the board. With all the persons available to serve on draft boards why utilize a Japanese-American for the purpose?

SIDELIGHTS: "Wouldn't you rather there would be a two per cent sales tax than a 15 per cent tax taken from your pay?" asks Financial Expert B. C. Forbes. Indeed I would, Mr. Forbes . . . Chicagoan sends in recipe for a "Moscow Sunrise" cocktail. First ingredient called for is "a large hooker of vodka." I pass. None of that vodka for me. And I don't care for a "Tequila Sunrise" either . . . Nine times out of 10 a dog is wrongly punished. Usually when a pup is wrong it is because he does not understand what is expected of him. So states a canine expert. He's probably right. But the rascals quite often know when they are doing the wrong thing. And what a guilty look they assume when caught at it.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—How about the answer to my question about how you put a crab to sleep? A—Be patient, sir. I am working on it. In the meanwhile would you mind telling me why you want to put a crab to sleep . . . Q—When a girl of 18 wants some advice from her parents about the wisdom of marrying a certain man, who gives her the best advice, her father or her mother? A—I may be prejudiced, Miss, but I think the father offers the soundest, most tolerant and most unselfish advice on such an occasion. Q—Is Mitzi Hajos still active on the stage? A—Very much so. She is now playing in the New York hit, "Cafe Crowd" . . . Q—Why do women newspaper reporters insist upon sitting on desks when in newspaper offices? A—I have tried to figure that out, too, sir. It could be they think they look cute sitting on a desk. Or, maybe, they believe it gives them an air of careless abandon or something similar.

PLEASE NOTE: Now take these fashion showings for females; do they use the same type of mannikins that wander around race tracks on big race days? All those mannikins are tall and have almost perfect figures. How can a woman who is short and perhaps a little plump tell how something would look on her that is shown by a perfectly proportioned woman of the Kay Francis type? . . . One in every four women in the United States never gets a husband. Show this to your wife, sir, so she will know how lucky she was to get you.

ASIDES: If the first part of the War Between the States had not been bungled by Union military leaders, Gen. U. S. Grant would have never had a chance to display the military genius that won the war . . . When the Nazis first rushed toward Moscow, the Russians did not say: "We will defend Moscow to the last man." No, sir. They said: "We will drive these German Fascists out of Russia and chase them all the way back to Berlin." That is what is known as "offense psychology," which is the kind of psychology that will win in modern warfare.

PASSING BY! Natacha Rambova. Born Winfred Hudnut. Second wife of Rudolph Valentino. As a film producer, she gave Myrna Loy her first chance. Natacha now spends her time studying astrology and trying to figure out what is going to happen in the next 10 years; year by year . . . Lucille Gleason. Actress. Member of the Hollywood Married Over a Quarter of a Century to the Same Man Club. Lucille has been married to Jimmie Gleason for 35 years. The hit of her stage career was in "The Shannons of Broadway" . . . Bertha Damon. Wrote "Grandma Called It Carnal." Quite an eye-catching title for a book, but still not as good in that respect as "The Rivet in Grandfather's Neck" by James Cabell, "They Shoot Horses, Don't They" by Horace McCoy, "The Postman Always Rings Twice" by James Cain and "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" by Anita Loos.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: In addition to serving his country so bravely and loyally as a soldier, Gen. Douglas MacArthur was so conscientious about his taxes that he overpaid the 1941 income tax $629.66. If anything could make a tax dodger or customs duty fee chiseller blush this fact about Gen. MacArthur should be it.

Broadway's Voice

WILL ETHEL MERMAN WEAR PIGTAILS?

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, March 2—I hope the glamour girls of Broadway and the Hollywood hills do not take the pigtail fashion too seriously. It is not very becoming pigtails would not improve Katharine Hepburn, Paulette Goddard, Ethel Merman or Hedy Lamarr—and what's more, it looks pretty silly. I have an unshakable conviction that no female over the age of 8 should wear pigtails . . . I don't hold with the theory that in wartime people want to see only light and cheehful plays and motion pictures There is a definite place for melodrama and even tragedy on the stage and on the screen; fictional despair can be just as "escapist" as fictional joy, if it's entertaining. "Macbeth" and "Kings Row" and "How Green Was My Valley"—all hits—are current examples.

PAULETTE GODDARD

THE PASSING from Times Square of that wonderful electric sign with the gay-colored fishes saddens me, I must admit. Not so much because it will make Broadway less cheery-looking, not just that Manhattan is losing another landmark—but chiefly because the fish sign was so pretty and so daffy. It advertised gum, and indeed several gum packs as big as Isotta-Fraschini limousines were illumined on the sign, but chiefly it was just odd, fat and green fish blowing gaudy bubbles into the Broadway night. It had a screwball charm. There were, from dusk until the last chorus girl had gone home from playing; fish as big as elephants, bubbles as enormous as roc's eggs, fantastic surrealist waves—all twinkling and winking and shining for the glory of a nickel package of gum. It was Disney-fish, it was delightful. I hope some day it will be back.

I AM BEGINNING to believe that life among swing musicians resembles the life cycle of the amoeba. You know the way the amoeba divides in half, and then the halves grow and divide, and those divisions divide again, ad infinitum? Well this biological operation haunts me when I read these swingland bulletins to the effect that Joe Trombone is leaving Bill Baton's band to form an orchestra of his own. It happened to Paul Whiteman and Duke Ellington and Tommy Dorsey, and it happened 12 times to Benny Goodman. Now it's happening again. Ray McKinley, Will Bradley's fantastic drummer, is cutting loose and starting his own troupe, from which unquestionably some saxophonist will divide to form his own unit. See what I mean?

THE ENDING of the film "Mr. V." is a real thrill. That's more than an A picture. It's a V picture . . . The frugality with which most Americans have been handling the sugar situation is certainly commendable. I suppose there are a few scattered, frightened and selfish hoarders throughout the nation, but for the most part the people I see are applying the rationing system conscientiously and with great good humor. All but the most anemic females are rejoicing in the reduction of temptation, and there is certainly no grousing heard from the males. Why, only the other evening Adolf Spreckles, the sugar king, carried his own lumps to the Cotillion Room and with a sly smile declined the Pierre's ration.

NICE TIMING on the new Al Cooper record of "We've Got Fish for Supper"—hit the juke boxes just in time for Lent . . . The Ashburns, up at the Rainbow Grill, are a nice smooth dance team . . . This is an amazing town. Last time I took a Fifth ave. bus ride there was a large lake in Central Park at 110th st. I drove past yesterday—and the lake is gone. Not even a sign tacked up to say when it would be back . . . The Hartmans—Paul and Grace—have engaging family histories. I mentioned some time ago that a grandfather of one of them founded and named the town of Walla Walla. Now I learn that a great-uncle of theirs was the man who sold the elephant Jumbo to P. T. Barnum. Sounds as though their family tree was planted by William Saroyan.

'Boogie Woogie' Starts Today

A brand new comic, "Boogie Woogie" by Michael Berry, joins the Boston Evening American's popular family of comics today. Turn to Page 28 and become acquainted at once with this new comic feature.

BOSTON after DARK

By GEORGE HOLLAND

MONDAY MORNING MUSINGS: If "Blues in the Night" is the best 'blues' since 'St Louis Blues' (and we do not gainsay this opinion) then 'The Saga of Jenny," from "Lady in the Dark" certainly has a claim to some sort of fame . . . It is the best "lowdown" number since "Frankie and Johnny" to say the least in its favor . . . When its opulent birthplace, "Lady in the Dark" is remembered only vaguely as the "show with folding scenery," "The Saga of Jenny" will be hummed and crooned and spoken by real lovers of smoky music.

WHICH GETS US around to a gentleman named Ira Gershwin, brother of the immortal George (and like so many unsung kinfolk of illustrious relatives a gentleman largely overlooked when the reckoning of current American genius is taken . . . Ira Gershwin wrote all his great brother's great lyrics from 'Swanee' to 'I Got Rhythm' to "Of Thee I Sing, Baby" and "Summertime," and 'It Ain't Necessarily So' . . . Detracting not one little from George's verdant memory, can't we say a word for his unheralded brother while Ira is among the quick?" . . . Certainly we can . . . It's a pleasure.

DEAN LANDIS OF HARVARD LAW SCHOOL may be back at school, or in another job, quicker than he thinks . . . Our Washington scout says that the joint congressional committee on economy will recommend that civilian defense (OCD) be turned over to the military . . . Landis' defense of Melvyn Douglas (who draws travel pay and $10 a day and has to travel from California to Washington whenever he's needed for active service) wasn't unexpected . . . Both are "liberals."

THE BOSTON SCHOOL COMMITTEE'S meeting tonight is calculated to produce headline-making fireworks on the subject of a 10-year-old youth whose mother has protested him being sent to a "disciplinary school" . . . There are two sides to this story, in case you'll be reading the bare details . . . And a major who was a hero in the last war will be in there battling to keep his escutcheon clean and shiny . . . We must give jovial Elsa Maxwell an A-plus for courage . . . With a profitable radio contract having weeks to run, and another option-date not far away, Elsa quoted Bernard Shaw, to wit: "America . . . where sane people are put behind bars and lunatics before the microphone."

AND WHAT'S THIS with the good Colonel Egan? . . . Firmest of the scribbling friends of racing in these parts, the Colonel exclaims: "Since when has the Commonwealth of Massachusetts been shilling for vendors of hot dogs?" . . . Fifteen G's from a hot-dog man was vital money in the building of dear ol' Rockingham, where New England racing was born, and the same hot-dog money has been parlayed into at least 50 per cent of the track's control . . . What makes it all particularly interesting is that the hot-dog man who became so potent in Rockingham is the hot-dog vendor the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, in the Colonel's words is now "shilling for" . . . (There isn't any mystery about his identity. He's shrewd Sam Simon, who "concessions" at the Boston Garden) . . . What's with the Colonel? . . . Maybe he figures the hot-dog has played its part in advancing the cause of racing hereabouts, and having been paid off with interest, it shouldn't rate further high-powered protection . . . At any rate, the Colonel points his bristling beard at a ludicrous piece of sham . . . If what he says is so, this Commr. Sam Smith of the boxing board was partly or passively, responsible for a rule that makes a 10-minute intermission obligatory at all boxing tournaments held in the State.

TOWN & COUNTRY

COURAGEOUS ELSA MAXWELL

Deserves A-Plus for Her Bernard Shaw Quotation

CONSIDER THAT for a moment . . . Almost always there is a brief pause before the main event of a boxing show goes on, and patrons who have sat through the preliminaries will—if they're in the mood and have the price—ooze out through the crowd to the concession booths in the lobby, there to be refreshed . . . This has been more or less haphazard . . . But the concessionaires, it seems, aren't willing to leave it to chance and the urge of thirst or hunger . . . So it's mandatory now . . . The boxing commission ruled it so . . . A ten-minute intermission, gentlemen! . . . Cigars, cigarettes, tonic—and hot dogs!

Van Heflin, who by no stretch of the imagination could be called good looking, has a unique style of acting and a different romantic technique. In the mad scramble for something new in the way of actors he seems to have landed on both feet.

He will have three leading ladies, Kathryn Grayson, Ann Rutherford and Marsha Hunt—daughters of Holland tulip growers.

BELLE BAKER OPENS AT MAYFAIR WEDNESDAY

Fritzi Scheff Stars In Rio Casino Show

By SAM BERENSON

Belle Baker, the belle of them all, singer of a thousand songs—the hit parades, past, present and future, singing anything from blues to boogie, the Queen of sheet music, who made five fortunes for as many publishers, takes the high spot at the Mayfair Wednesday evening. Ranny Weeks, in his tie-and-tails and emcee manners, is there to present the entertainment and lead the band for the dance set.

Fritzi Scheff, great lady of America's Golden Era of operetta, brings her enchanting self to the Rio Casino tonight. Memory Lane? When Fritzi sings "Kiss Me Again" something happens. Victor Herbert wrote it for her alone. Shame on you if you've never heard it! . . . Helen Carroll, Benny Drohan, Harold and Lola, Adrienne Parker and the Buster Klem Girls round out the show . . . George Harris and his orchestra for dancing.

Our orchid-of-the-week to Carol Dennison, lovely songstress and mistress-of-ceremonies at the Beachcomber. Carol has suddenly blossomed out as one of the best singers of Spanish songs—we mean the kind that comes from South America. And when it comes to furthering the Good Neighbor Policy, Carol is as good at that as she is nice to behold and wonderful to listen to. Another remarkable girl at the Beachcomber now is Louise Sorday. And if you've never heard her sing "I Said No," you've got a thrill on the way.

Frolics-On-Ice. Glamour swings along with swank at the Copley Plaza, where lithe Dorothy Lewis cuts a dash on skates. You raved about her beauty and grace in "Ice-Capades." You'll like her just as much in the Oval Room. And Ruby Newman, darling of the dancing debbies, gets a royal welcome back with his smooth band . . . If Johann Strauss were still playing the fiddle you would probably find him turning up now and then at Steuben's Vienna Room, where he could feel at home . . . He'd easily recognize the food and the atmosphere, even though the music might puzzle him for a while. But betcha he'd soon find Lew Conrad's band as fascinating as we regard it . . It is always the enchanted time of twilight at the Cave, where lights are low and spirits high.

You're in step with the right procession when you march to the Vendome's Fife and Drum Room in these military days—with the Glamour Group invading it nightly to hear Oscar Elgart rattle out rousing rhythms . . . Adrienne takes top-billing at the Somerset Hotel's Balinese room .

A poetic spot when you're in That Mood is the Bermuda Terrace of the Hotel Brunswick. Charlie Barnet emcees with his danceable band. It's been a topper from coast to coast. Featured with the band are Hazel Bruce and Allan Lane . . . Stella Ray's humorous and sophisticated ditties have nightclub goers lending a careful ear at Freddie Soracco's Club Vanity Fair

Crackling log fires at the Eddie Davis, Beacon st Fox & Hounds . . . Here I am again, the "Columbus of show business"—I discover 'em, groom 'em an' then they go places! But they never forget little Izzy! Now, every good Hub night club has got musicians what onct started in my place.

Jest received a card from a protege, one of the hottest trumpet players in the business, Jab'o Jenkins, what is in one of the biggest name bands in the country!

"Snake Hips" Davis the colored boy you've seen in my place, has been signed up by Ella Fitzgerald ta go with her orchestra. He dropped in fer my blessin and [illegible] touch for ten bucks!

I heard that a certain girl who is a comedy sensation in Frisco, so I phoned her an' told her who I wuz an' got a reception like a lost brother. She's like Mary Lopez who made every one scream by singin' "A Tisket A Tasket," when she worked for me!

You'll see discoveries of mine in every state. The biggest guy in the world is usin' my talent. Uncle Sam is takin' away the male member of the dance team of Durante an' Durante, who jest about lived in my place. NAZI SMASH AT ICELAND PREDICTED

LONDON March 2 (AP)—A German attack on American-occupied Iceland simultaneously with occupation of the Canary Islands Dakar and Casablanca was predicted today by a London source

Reports of a concentration of a German battle squadron and transports at Narvik and Trondheim and the appearance of new German air force units in Norway were called indications that the Germans were preparing a thrust at the island which guards the North Atlantic sea lanes

The attack on Iceland would be a signal for an amphibious offensive, spectacular and probably less costly than a drive against the Red Army. The prime object would be to bypass the British Isles and then to isolate them by submarine action, the source said.

German U-boats on Iceland would seek to prevent American troops and supplies from reaching Britain. The United Kingdom's usefulness as a base from which the continent might be invaded eventually would be ended, the source asserted

"There is no sound strategical reason why the Germans should invade Britain if she takes these vital positions," the informant said.

$25 Fire Kills 2 in Fitchburg

FITCHBURG, March 2 A 36-year old man and his 70-year-old aunt died today in a fire that caused only $25 damage to their four-room apartment

Although both were severely burned, death was believed to have been do to smoke inhalation.

The man, identified as Joseph L. Leblanc, and also known as Joseph White, was found by firemen near a bedroom closet door which he had vainly tried to open apparently believing it to be an exit

His aunt, Mrs. Mary Leblanc, was found lying across the threshold of a door leading from the bedroom to the kitchen. Still alive, she was taken to Burbank Hospital, but died a half-hour later

WOMAN DIES OVER 100

Mrs Susan A. Miller of Lynn, 100 years old last Maresh, died today

Gun Accident Kills Man as He Enters Car

As his wife and daughter prepared to join him in the family automobile, Leonard M. Van Gemert, 53, was killed today by a blast from a shotgun he was carrying. The accident occurred at the open door of Van Gemert's car, which was standing in front of his home in Rice rd, Cochituate.

M. F. Burke, medical examiner of Natick, after questioning relatives and friends of Van Gemert, pronounced the death accidental.

The roar of the shotgun, an old converted muzzle-loader, brought the victim's wife, Mrs. Jean S. Van Gemert, and their daughter, Mrs Hazel M. Otto, running from the house.

They found the husband and father crumpled on the ground beside the door, his head on the running board and a hole blasted in his left side, near the heart.

Van Gemert operated a small sewing machine repair shop in Needham and, according to his wife and daughter, was about to start for the shop today, and they were to accompany him.

When police arrived at the scene they found the motor of the car running. Dr. Burke said the victim apparently tripped while entering with the shotgun.

The Van Gemerts have been residents of Cochituate for the past 10 years and Mrs. Otto has been living with them recently.

Mary Joyce, Billy Watson's Beef Trust Beauties at Globe

Bernardolls in New Numbers

The Globe this week offers two big shows in one, including tons of buxom beauty.

In addition to the regular burlesque show, the program bills genial Billy Watson and his Beef Trust Bouncing Babies, generously described as "ten tons of buxom blonde and brunette beauty." Grogan Spencer is a weighty feature of this celebrated company.

MARY JOYCE

Heading the other half of the extensive stage show are Mary Joyce, dancer, Ilka De Cava, stripteuse, and Whitley Wynette. And to make a spectacular setting for these burlesque charmers, there are the 30 dancing Bernardolls, offering as their outstanding number, Tossing the Bali Torso."

Bob Carney, a favorite comedian with Hub audiences, Joe Cowan, Al Golden, Jr., and singing Bob Ridley add to the gaiety.

Vaudeville is represented by Cosmo and Anita, adagio dancers, and Gwen Reed, sepian "blues" singer.

For film fare there are "Dangerous to Know" with Gail Patrick and Akim Tamiroff, and "The Three Musketeers" with the Ritz Brothers.

Howard Bills Gay Burlesque

For its mammoth "Black and White Burlesquers" revue, the Old Howard management has assembled possibly the greatest aggregation of black and white burlesque performers ever seen together on any stage. There is to be a special matinee this afternoon.

There are 70 people in the cast, the 35 colored stage folk coming here direct from Harlem's "hot spot" night clubs. The other half of the show arrived here from Chicago.

Such sepian personalities are represented as "Dusty" Fletcher, comedian; Vernada, snake dancer; Miller Bros. and Lois, dancers; Susayebrown, only colored woman comedienne; Berry and Thomas, dancers; Emery Evans, straightman; Bo Jenkins, dancer and Dave Lawton, singer of Southern songs.

I. B. Hamp, Cecil Alexander and Harry "Shuffles" Levan head the "White" half of the company, which includes Sunva Slane, Renee, Sally O Day, Betty Coette and Charles Harris.

The chorus of 35 black and white song-and-dance girls is an important factor in the gay goings-on.

"Blood and Sand," co-starring Tyrone Power and Rita Hayworth, and "For Beauty's Sake," with Ned Sparks, Joan Davis and Ted North, are the screen features.

Playbill for This, Future Weeks

Tonight

SHUBERT—"LOUISIANA PURCHASE," B. G. De Sylva's enormously successful Broadway musical with Vera Zorina, William Gaxton, Irene Bordoni and Victor Moore. Morrie Ryskind wrote the book after an original story by De Sylva that is concerned in a purely farcical fashion with political graft down Louisiana way.

Supporting players include Ralph Riggs, Nick Long, Jr., The Buccaneers, Althea Elder, Karen Cooper, Charles La Torre, Edward H. Robins and the Fifty Louisiana Belles. Book staged by Edgar McGregor, dances staged by Carl Randall. Tom Lee designed sets and costumes. Limited engagement.

Wednesday

PLYMOUTH—"LIFE, LAUGHTER AND TEARS," consisting of two short Saroyan plays and one, also short, by Sean O'Casey, with Eddie Dowling both producer and star. Julie Haydon appears opposite Dowling in the Saroyan plays. Others of the cast are Farrell Pelly, Grover Burgess, John Farrell, Mildred Dunnock, Peg Mayo, Ann Driscoll and George Blackwood. Staged by Schuyler. Settings by Oliver Smith.

Original opening scheduled for Monday night was postponed because of Mr. Dowling's illness. One week.

March 9

COLONIAL — "MY DEAR PUBLIC," Irving Caesar's new musical starring Mitzi Green with Cora Witherspoon, Tamara, John Buckmaster, Joe Smith, Charles Dale, The Revuers, Rose Brown and The Martins. Charles Gottesfeld and Mr. Caesar wrote the book. The songs were composed by Caesar, Gerald Marks and Samuel Lerner. The book is being staged by Joseph Pevney, and the dances by Carl Randall. Settings by Albert Johnson and costumes by Lucinda Ballard. One week.

PLYMOUTH—"TOBACCO ROAD," returning for its fourth engagement here, brings Jeeter Lester and his Georgia "Cracker" brood with their poor white problems and humors. John Barton, now in his fifth season as Jeeter, will be seen with Sara Perry, Robert Rose, Merryl Boyden, Vinnie Phillips, William Bishop, Sondra Johnson and others. Jack Kirkland wrote the play from the Erskine Caldwell book.

March 16

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE — "THE RIVALS," the Theater Guild's revival of the 18th Century comedy by Sheridan with Mary Boland, Bobby Clark and Walter Hampden, will play Boston after all. Cancelled once it is now definitely set to open two weeks from tonight. In the company are Haila Stoddard, Helen Ford, Donald Burr, Philip Bourneuf and Robert Wallsten. Macklin Marrow has written a special score for lyrics by Arthur Guiterman. Staged by Eva Le Gallienne.

COLONIAL — "WATCH ON THE RHINE," Lillian Hellman's absorbing drama of the heroism of a refugee, anti-Nazi German and his American wife. Paul Lukas, Lucile Watson, George Coulouris and the rest of the original Broadway cast are promised. Produced and staged by Herman Shumlin. To be presented in the subscription series of the Theater Guild and American Theater Society.

Theater and Date Indefinite

"HELLZAPOPPIN'," the Olsen and Johnson stage lark now playing to capacity houses in Philadelphia with Jay C. Flippen and Happy Felton in the Olsen and Johnson roles.

Sanroma-Choir Concert Treat

By HARRIS MORGAN

The joint concert of Jesus Maria Sanroma, distinguished Boston pianist, with the Vested Liturgical Choir of Men And Boys, of the Church Of The Immaculate Conception, under the direction of Leonard S. Whalen, was a revelation to the audience that filled Jordan Hall last evening.

Most striking was the tonality of the boy sopranos. Nothing like them has been heard in a Boston concert hall since the ineffable Vienna Choir Boys.

The out-of-this-world quality of tone inherent in Mr. Whalen's cherubs is the exact requirement—musically as well as rubrically—for the deeply devotional character of the music, which was principally from the liturgy of the church . . . For Palm Sunday, the Tenebrae of Holy Week, parts of the mass and such prayerful salutations to the Virgin and the Blessed Sacrament as occur at the Offertory

A most imposing group of three, from the Sixteenth Century polyphonists—Vittoria, Palestrina and Des Pres—was sung without accompaniment, as required, and with faultless ensemble. The Choir sang also a secular group, most notable being an Irish and English pair of folk tunes for two voices, with descant, both with melodies of haunting beauty. Accompanists were William Rutledge, organ; Deane Priest, piano—both in sympathetic agreement with the celestial sounds on stage.

The star of the choir is its director, Leonard Whalen. His reflection is brightest in the beautiful singing of his star pupil, Edward Rhilinger, mezzo-soprano soloist. There has been no boy-treble voice developed like this in recent memory.

Mr. Sanroma's performance was by way of being a revelation, also. Too readily associated only with the moderns, Mr. Sanroma proved that he is "a born interpreter of Schuman" in that composer's G-minor Sonata, played with flashing brilliance.

Esquire's 'Prime Minister' Screened by Sterling Cast

By JOYCE DANA

The dreams of empire in the days of Queen Victoria, are set forth with the Shakespearian actor, John Gielgud, as England's beloved Disraeli in "The Prime Minister," which is the attraction at the newly opened Esquire Theater.

Mr. Gielgud's Hamlet, among other roles, on American stages brought him high praise. Now as the central figure in an era of fascinating political intrigue he suggests the actor more than the diplomat. It took Disraeli 40 years to achieve his goal, and for the major part of that period, if history can be believed, he was outwardly a self-effacing idol of the people, if not of his party.

Diana Wynyard, charming and equally delightful in both her younger and older days, is the devoted wife, whose inspiration turned the tide of Britain's politics, while her husband sat in the conning tower. Ever since her memorable portrait in "Cavalcade," her few appearances on the screen have been memorable. Whether or not she was hiding behind the curtain in the palace while "Dizzy" had his all-important audience with the Queen, it's pleasant to have her around anyway.

Another talented English star, Fay Compton, makes an impressive Queen Victoria, and the Scottish comedian, Will Fyffe, does noble work as the "Agitator."

Thornton Dickerson has directed in leisurely fashion, which robs the film of the pace Hollywood has set. That era is similar to this in that Germany was trying to change the map then as now, but with less success apparently.

"The Prime Minister" is definitely a worthwhile picture, excellently acted, and distinctly out of the run-of the mill movies.

Gypsy Lee Show Rehearsals Due

April 6 has been announced as the rehearsal date for Mike Todd's production, "The Gypsy Rose Lee Follies," a burlesque show dressed up to sell at a $4.40 top. Hassard Short will stage the affair which Todd says will have the services of Bobby Clark and burlesque's Carrie Finnell.

The producer still owns some tunes written by Johnny Green for another musical in which he had an interest. In the time between now and rehearsals he is looking forward to the end of the road tour of "The Rivals," to which Bobby Clark is committed and in which he will pause here the week of March 16.

—FOR VICTORY: BUY BONDS—

It's 'Private Snuffy Smith' on Screen

"Private Snuffy Smith" has succeeded "Snuffy Smith, Yardbird" as the title of Monogram's recently completed comedy based on the Billy De Beck comic strip, a favorite with Boston Evening American readers. The change was made to indicate clearly that the story is one of army life. Bud Duncan, Edgar Kennedy and Sarah Padden are featured.

Gin Rummy Players Create Lingo of Own

Josephine Culbertson, famed authority on gin rummy, the fascinating card game now sweeping the country, in her article today discusses live cards and dead cards.

By JOSEPHINE CULBERTSON

Any game, like any trade or profession, develops a language of its own. Gin Rummy is no exception.

While a game is in progress one hears of "going gin" (having all ten cards matched); "going down for six" (knocking with a net count of 6); "lines" or "boxes"; "laying off," and other terms incomprehensible to anyone who does not play the game.

Some of these terms were inherited from the parent game of rummy. An example is "live cards" and "dead cards."

A live card is one which has not yet shown up; a dead card is one which has been discarded and may no longer be drawn. A combination is "dead" when no card to match it remains in play.

Thus, three kings are "dead" if the fourth king has been discarded. The sequence Heart 5-4 3 is dead if both the Heart 6 and Heart 2 have previously been discarded; it is dead at one end if, for example the Heart 6 has been discarded but the Heart 2 is still at large.

Knowing what cards are dead, and what cards may still possibly be drawn, affects the entire strategy of play: when to knock and when to refrain from knocking; what cards to hold, and what cards to discard. It would be silly, for example, to keep such a combination as Club 9-7 if the Club 8 is dead.

EASY MATCHING

A pair of tens, mathematically, are twice as easy to match as a combination like Diamond 6-4; but if one of the tens has been discarded, it becomes mathematically just as easy to match the Diamond 6-4, which is consequently a better combination to hold because, if the opponent knocks, it counts just half as much against you, 10 points as against 20.

The easiest way to keep track of live and dead cards is to look back through the discards. The official laws of gin rummy say it is illegal to look at previous discards "unless the players agree in advance to do so."

I explained previously that, early in the course of the hand, you should knock with 10 or less; but that during the middle game you should have about 5 to knock. Remembering the dead cards may affect these principles. Suppose you hold:

9-9-9
Spades 5-4-3-2
Diamond 4 Club 3 Heart A

DISCARD DEAD CARDS

It is the middle game; about 18 or 20 cards remain, undrawn, in the stock. Your unmatched total is 8, which is ordinarily too high to knock at this stage of the game. But the fourth 9 and the Spade 6 have been discarded; your matched sets are virtually dead. Your three unmatched cards offer no immediate prospect of making a matched set.

Thus, it would take you several draws, with average luck, to improve your hand materially. Meanwhile your opponent may knock or even go to gin. Your best hope of winning is to knock immediately on the chance that your opponent has not yet developed his hand fully. As a further advantage, you know he cannot lay off more than 1 point (the Spade A) if you do knock.

In discarding, you naturally choose a relatively "dead" card whenever you can, because it will not help your opponent.

Suppose you have:
Spade 2 Heart 2 Diamond 2
Diamond J-10-9
Club 4 3 Diamond 3
Spade 8 Heart 6

You have just drawn the Heart 6, and must now discard. Naturally you will keep your two matched sets and your 4—3—3 combination which offers several chances to make a matched set. Your normal discard would be your higher worthless card, the Spade 8, because you want to keep your count as low as possible.

But you remember that your opponent discarded the Diamond 6, so he is not keeping sixes; and you previously discarded the Heart 7, which your opponent did not pick up, indicating that he is probably not trying for a heart sequence. But no 8 has been discarded nor has the Spade 9 or the Spade 7. Your opponent may be able to use the Spade 8.

In this case discretion is the better part of valor. You waive the possible two-point advantage and discard the Heart 6.

Tomorrow: Reading the opponent's hand.

Washington's Same, Only More Inmates

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Distributed by International News Service

A fellow asked me how the Washington of 1942 compares with the Washington of 1917. Well, in 1917 they described it as a madhouse run by the inmates.

Now, there seem to be more inmates.

There are more people down there doing less for fewer reasons.

President Roosevelt has pleaded with the crackaloos and the screwberries to race their shadows against the setting sun.

But the kibitzers refuse to scram. You never saw so many innocent bystanders with wool in their teeth.

'Skeeter' Bidding for Cronin's Berth

SARASOTA, Fla., March 2—The widely advertised shortstop duel between Johnny Pesky and Eddie Pellagrini was scheduled to start at the Red Sox camp today, and the maddest fellow in town was Lamar "Skeeter" Newsome, Sox utility infielder.

"Have they forgotten I'm with the club?" barked the little blonde Georgian who played in 93 games last year. "I'll grab off that job if I'm given half a chance. I'm heavier (170) and stronger than I've ever been, and never felt better in my life.

"Just tell those writer friends of yours not to be giving that shortstop job away while little Skeeter's still around."

Always a slick fielder, perhaps the finest in the business, Skeeter's .260 hitting has kept him from fame and the big money. But he thinks he'll do well at the bat this year for two reasons:

1—He's switched hitting again, as he did back in 1932 and 1933.

2—He's been swinging a bat all winter on the advice of Hughey Duffy and has broadened his shoulders and strengthened his wrists.

"I'm 31, yes," admitted Skeeter, "but I feel as if I'm just starting out. I missed a couple of years, you know, and I've got plenty of years left and I'll prove it if I get the chance."

* * *

Skeeter is the chap who suffered two near-fatal beanings within 10 months of each other back in '37 and '38. He was with the A's at the time.

The first beaning fractured his skull and he was out the last five weeks of the '37 season. But he's a tough fibred type and reported as chipper as ever in '38.

He had the A's shortstop job sewed up and then bingo! Ten days before the season opened he got conked again. This was far more serious than the first, and even Connie Mack despaired of his life. He was out the entire season of '38, never even putting on a uniform. He suffered dizzy spells all that year and again in '39, when he rejoined the A's.

* * *

Like Billy Jurges, another beaning victim, hot days effected Skeeter more than the cooler ones. If he ran from first to third, he'd get so dizzy he'd have to leave the game.

So Connie Mack gave up on him and shipped him to Baltimore. There he performed so well Joe Cronin picked him up for infield insurance, and a wise pick it was, too. Skeeter played a lot of ball last year, filling in at second and short when Doerr or Cronin was out or when Tabor was out and Joe shifted to third. He hit only .225 but on one western trip playing regularly, he hit .293.

"I'll hit better this year," Skeeter vowed and told why. He used to hit well when he was switching in the minors way back in '32 and '33, but broke the ankle on his left foot and had to hit right-handed exclusively thereafter because he couldn't put any weight on his left foot.

* * *

But he practiced hitting left-handed again all last summer in the one o'clock sessions, and although he didn't try it in a game he convinced himself he could still hit from the portside.

So he came down early this spring and has had four days of batting left-handed before his rivals, Pesky and Pellagrini, appeared on the scene today.

"Every day all winter long I swung a bat both left and right-handed from 100 to 300 times," said Skeeter. "Cronin used to do it in the old days, and Ted Williams does it today. Old Hughey Duffy improved Finney, and I feel improved all ready just because of that constant swinging. I'm going to keep swinging all year, too. No busher's going to play shortstop for the Red Sox while little Skeeter's around."

SOX STAND BY WILLIAMS; WAGNER SAYS CASE LIKE HIS

SARASOTA, Fla., March 2—Boston baseball fans can argue pro and con over the draft deferment of Teddy "The Kid" Williams but his Red Sox teammates are behind him solidly, and to a man.

In fact, every one on the roster wonders what all the shooting is about.

Williams might be just the proper fellow to punch the Red Sox into a pennant this approaching season, and thereby enrich each of his Red Sox partners by some $5000, but you can be assured that this is no reason why the Red Sox are on Williams' side in the current controversy which has attracted national attention.

The Red Sox would be the first to give Williams the brush-off, but rapidly, if they felt that Ted should be toting a gun instead of a bat and that he was side-stepping his duty to the U. S.

Baseball, once the lone topic of conversation in this sunny encampment, is being shelved for talk of war, MacArthur, Pearl Harbor and the perilous situation in the East Indies. The athletes under the command of Joe Cronin are aware of what's going on: they know the Axis menace; they realize that Williams would be making the mistake of several lifetimes if he belonged in 1-A but achieved a 3-A rating.

Yet they're with the Kid. They can't believe that fans are questioning his status.

Said Pitcher Charlie Wagner today:

"His case is like mine and I haven't run into any difficulty. I have parents who are dependent upon me. So I was placed in 3-A right after registering and my classification hasn't been changed."

Said Jimmy Foxx:

"Ted's circumstances are similar to those of Charlie Wagner and Eddie Pelligrini, both of whom are in 3-A. The Kid need make no apologies."

O'TOOLE BEST

DETROIT, March 2 (AP)—Champion Mahoney's O'Toole, 4 year-old Irish water spanial owned by Mrs. Charles M. Wynns of North Highland Park, Ill., emerged best of show from the two-day exhibition of the Detroit Kennel Club last night.

NASH, JINXED BC STAR, WINS ANNAPOLIS CHANCE

Ralph Kenneth Nash, 20-year-old backfield coach of the 1941 Somerville High School football team, was nominated today by Cong. Arthur D. Healey as principal appointee to the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis.

The Boston College student who resides at 83 Curtis st., West Somerville, who might have been one of the nation's outstanding football players, is due to enter Annapolis at the conclusion of his junior year studies at B. C. in June.

The can't be beat spirit which Nash took with him through his high school and college football days once again marked an important decision he has made.

At Somerville High School, Nash's role on the football team was that of quarterback and blocking back. He called the plays, let others carry the ball and cleared the way for them.

ON WAY TO FAME

Graduating with the class of 1939, Nash entered Boston College where his name crept into the accounts of freshman football, and in 1940 he had made the varsity team, subbing for Henry Tocyzlowski, All-American blocking back.

Nash played brilliantly against Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl game of Jan. 1, 1941. Classmates at Boston College and sports enthusiasts had marked him down as one of the coming football greats when sickness terminated his playing career.

First it was an attack of pneumonia, then an appendectomy. But even though relegated to the sidelines, Nash continued to take part in football. He took a manager's berth with the B. C. team and later was selected by Ecio Luciano, Somerville High coach, as backfield mentor for the high school squad – probably the youngest member of a high school coaching staff in these United States.

Where others, haunted by sickness and reverses would have given up, Nash didn't. He studied for an Annapolis appointment and qualified as the No. 1 man on Congressman Healey's list.

He can't be beaten. He won't give up.

ANOTHER COACHING GAP

Nash's appointment to Annapolis leaves another big gap in the Somerville High coaching setup.

With the position of coach declared vacant at the high school Nash's term expired with Luciano's.

Appointment of assistant coaches at the high school rests with the head coach, and it was possible that Nash would have continued as an assistant along with Lou Musco, the other assistant.

Joe DiMaggio Tops Holdouts With 40G Bid

Baseball's grapefruit season is here again but this one previews a major league campaign designed to boost both morale and finances of a nation at war, according to the Associated Press.

But even the war has failed to spare club owners the headaches caused by the perennial strikers.

From the standpoint of money involved the world champion Yankees top both leagues. Six regulars still are unwilling to accept the club' terms.

Joe DiMaggio wants $40,000 to play center field and is quietly waiting out President E. Barrow. Other Yanks whose signatures are needed are pitcher Red Ruffing, catcher Bill Dickey, outfielder Charley Keller and infielders Joe Gordon and Red Rolfe.

Detroit, launching an enonomy campaign, still hasn's convinced nine members of the squad that figures mentioned in their 1942 contracts are adequate. The group includes pitchers Paul Trout, Buck Newsom, Luther Thomas and John Gorsica, catcher Bill Sullivan, first baseman Rudy York and outfielders Rop Radcliff, Barney McCosky and Dick Wakefield.

The Dodgers have rounded up everybody except Whitlow Wyatt, who pitched them to 22 victories last year.

Shortstop Bill Jurges is the New York Giants' only holdout.

"I am dazed" said Frank.* After graduating from high school he found that he could not get employment. "For nine months, I worked as a pick and shovel laborer at a salary of $12.00 a week. This was tedious and very unpleasant especially when bad weather set in.

"Imagine what happened. I tried the U. S. Government examination for City Mail Carrier. I obtained a rating of 98.2% and within a few months, I received an appointment. I find the work very agreeable and pleasant. I now earn between $30.00 and $40.00 a week.

"All of this happened because I read an advertisement of Franklin Institute offering to prepare young men to pass U. S. Government Civil Service examinations.

Requested New Threat For Derby

By JOHN WILDS

MIAMI, Fla., March 2 (AP)—Ben F. Whitaker's Requested, beaten out of the 1941 juvenile championship by Alsab's meteoric performance, had a flying start today toward top three-year-old honors.

The chestnut colt found himself again Saturday, and outclassed 15 of the fleetest three year-olds in Florida to win the Flamingo Stakes—a victory worth $28,150.

Almost left at the post, Requested showed the kind of speed and heart that make Kentucky Derby winners—and earned the praise of Jockey Eddie Arcaro.

DERBY MATERIAL

"He's definitely Derby material," the veteran rider declared after piloting Requested to a four-length edge over the longshot Redthorn in the second race, and a nine-length revenge over Alsab, the show horse.

Included among his victims were the two previous three-year-old stake winners at Hialeah Park, American Wolf and Bright Willie. Bright Willie, like Requested, had to break from outside the starting gate because of the overflow field, and was left flatfooted in a ragged start that brought boos from the crowd of 26,571—Hialeah's second largest.

American Wolf had no excuses

SURPRISE WIN

The victory came as a surprise—worth $13.10 for $2 to those who backed him — because Requested had finished dead last in his first appearance this season, and second in his only other outing.

Whitaker said the colt would not run again until he goes to post in the Wood Memorial at Jamaica.

Requested won seven stakes as a two-year-old, and was considered the pick of the crop early in the summer. Then Alsab came along to beat him in a special $10,000 match race at Belmont and again in the Champagne stakes, and the Whitaker horse was forgotten in the rush to the wonder thoroughbred.

Owner Al Sabath said he was much encouraged by Alsab's showing Saturday, even though the horse absorbed his third licking of the winter.

Tokle Sets New Ski Record

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., March 2 (AP)—Torger Tokle, the Norwegian carpenter from Brooklyn, N. Y., established a new American ski jumping record as he soared 289 feet off the icy Pine Mountain chute today.

Tokle's mark, made with one cracked ski, bettered by one foot the American record he set at the Snoqualmie Ski Bowl near Seattle a year ago.

The 289-foot try came on the second leap after an initial 281-foot effort. Tokle was awarded first place in stiff Class A competition with a 151.08 point rating.

He said afterward that he "outjumped" the hill by 10 feet.

Revived Spokane Five Carries On

SPOKANE, Wash., March 2 (AP)—Whitworth College and Spokane Junior College have a basketball game scheduled for Wednesday night. The catch is, there isn't any Spokane Junior College. It consolidated with Whitworth last month.

There'll be a game, though. After all, why throw away those pretty Spokane uniforms?

NAVY HURLER—Here are Emerson Dickman, Red Sox pitcher who has joined the Naval Reserve as a 2nd class officer, and Mrs. Dickman. He is waiting his call at Sarasota, and getting in a bit of conditioning.

Quincy Girl Named Queen Of Carnival

Dorothea Dempsey, 20, of Rockland st., Quincy, won the "Miss Massachusetts" title; Irene Ryan, 18, Charles st., Dorchester, was named "Miss Boston," and Winifred Magee, 19, Parker st., Newton Center, was voted "Miss Arena" in the Queen of the Ice contest finals, supplemented by a brilliant carnival, before 6000 at the Arena.

All three will represent this section in the National Queen of the Ice contest, scheduled the first week in May at the Pan-Pacific auditorium in Hollywood. The girl voted the U. S. Queen will get a contract for a role in Ice-Capades. All three will be sent to Hollywood with full expenses paid, given luxurious skating costumes and suitably wardrobed for a week of associating with the elite in the film capital.

Only two were to have represented this area in the National Ice Queen grand finals. But the judges last night finished in a deadlock and director Paul V. Brown, general manager of the Arena, made a last-minute decision to pick three from a glamorous group of 15 finalists.

Miss Dempsey, Miss Ryan and Miss Magee, equally reasonable facsimiles of Claudette Colbert, Kay Francis and Ginger Rogers, respectively, took the most number of votes and the titles and the trophies. Miss Dempsey, clerk in a Quincy fuel company and graduate of Quincy High with the class of 1940, led the field in judging for poise, charm, personality and showmanship; Miss Ryan was on top in the beauty of face and figure department; Miss Magee got most of the ballots of the board of 12 judges for skating ability.

Racer Tramples Groom to Death

MIAMI, Fla., March 2 (AP)—Richard Clemons, 23, of Grove City, Ohio, was trampled to death by a horse in the River Divide Farms barn at Hialeah Park race track.

State Investigator I. R. Mills said Clemons apparently entered the stall by mistake. His mangled body was found at feeding time.

Gomez Latest Threat to Louis' Heavy Crown

CAMP BLANDING, Fla., March 2 (AP)—Tommy Gomez, the fighting Spaniard from Tampa who is now in uniform at Camp Blanding, wants two more successful fights under his belt and then a crack at comrade-in-uniform Joe Louis, stationed at Camp Upton, N. Y.

"We were offered a fight with Louis in January," said his trainer, Pete Leto, also a soldier here, "but we figured Tommy wasn't ready. I told Mike Jacobs we would be ready if Tommy beats Buddy Scott in Tampa on March 15—and if he licks either Bob Pastor or Billy Conn after that."

DIAMOND RING FINALS ON AT ARENA

Thirty-two survivors of the four elimination shows will clash tonight at the Arena in the grand finals of the Diamond Ring Tournament under the auspices of the Irish-American A. A.

Included in the group will be National, New England, Golden Glove Diamond Belt and All-American winners from previous tourneys.

Tonight's winners in all classes will automatically qualify for the New England A. A. A. U. championships, to be held at Boston Garden on March 23. Only the winners of titles on the 23d will be eligible to represent New England in the "Championship of Champions"—the National Tournament at the Garden in April.

Every class on tonight's card is studded with outstanding performers, and more action will be crowded into this tournament final than any held all season.

What main bout attraction could have any more drawing power than a return match between Tony Peppi, Boston, and Joe Hebert, Lowell, in the 112 pounds? All New England fight fandom is still talking about their last meeting in the All-America finals where Peppi was given the decision by the judges.

Hebert has been gunning for the local boy ever since and promises to leave no doubt in the minds of the officials tonight as to who the winner may be.

DeGREGORIO ON HAND

Little Tony DeGregorio, Boston, last year's New England A. A. A. U bantamweight champion, who reached the semi-finals of the National championships, goes after the featherweight crown tonight, and he will have to be at his peak to polish off boys like Angus White, Framingham; Bobby Zollo, Providence, the Golden Gloves winner, and Walter Barch, Worcester, the Diamond Belt titleholder who made the going tough for Francis Leonard, Taunton, in the N. E. All-America tournament.

A novice in November and the All-America king in January, James Sauer, Cambridge, the lightweight titleholder, will be the center of attraction tonight against Al Aloisi, Boston; George Perkins of Saugus and Mickey O'Donnell, a fighting sailor from the U. S. Navy.

Willard Buckless of Saugus, another All-America grand finals winner, has a slight edge over the rest of the field in the 147-pound class. Plenty of stiff opposition will be furnished by James Pettie, Woburn; Edward Barnes, Saugus and Frank MacDougall, Roxbury, the Diamond Belt winner.

REDUCING EXERCISE. This is the wheelbarrow roll and the ball players executing it are the White Sox who have started Spring workouts at Pasadena, Cal. The Chisox have been installed as the team that has a chance to beat the mighty Yankees this year. They finished third in 1941.

B. C. Ice Pilot Accepted by Army Air Corps

Capt. Ralph Powers of B. C. has led his varsity squad to its third straight New England Intercollegiate Hockey League championship, its fourth in six years, and now Ralph is ready to embark upon a more important schedule.

Powers has enlisted and been accepted by the Army Air Corps.

Powers is one of the most quiet, easy-going students at the Heights. He's a good student—one of the best in the senior class. He'd probably have taken to teacher-coaching (the life he planned) like a duck to water if he was living in an ordinary period.

Powers and Hugh Sharkey, this year a spare goalie but first string net keeper in 1940 and '41, are the only members of the present championship squad who have worn the Maroon and Gold through the last three championship seasons. Capt. Powers bowed out of Boston College hockey in fitting style. Ralph scored Boston College's final goal in the Eagles conquest of Colby at the Arena Saturday. The game was for the loop championship.

Wally Boudreau, high scoring junior from Cambridge who scored four goals, assisted in two others and personally accounted for the conquest of Colby, is expected to be named captain, successor to Powers. Boudreau was the team's high scorer throughout an 11-game season, during which Boston College lost only to Dartmouth and Princeton. The Eagles won nine games, eight of 'em N. E. loop affairs.

EARL BROWN OF HARVARD HOUNDED BY COURT JINX

After the B. U. contest Wednesday night, the likeable young Harvard hoop mentor, Earl Brown, can lay claim to being one of the most unlucky men ever to make a coaching debut. Of five athletes considered the most likely starters at the beginning of the season, three will be on the sidelines Thursday.

With three tough Eastern Intercollegiate contests coming up, the blow is a severe one. Joe Romano, high-scoring ace for three seasons, was lost for the year more than a month ago due to a knee injury. After Wednesday, Robert "Chick" Lutz and Don McAlpine Lutze, two of the best soph prospects ever to play at Harvard, go on scholastic probation.

TOUGH ON BROWN

Another regular, Ed Rothschild, was lost for three games in mid-season when he quit the squad temporarily to concentrate on studies. Thursday, Brown will be up against a mathematical stonewall when he tries to get several combinations out of just nine men.

The retiring "Z" boys stood out last year on a good yearling five and were well on the way to stardom this season. Until "Bunks" Burditt began his scoring spurt a month ago, "Chick" seconded Romano in individual scoring. Saturday, Don, who netted 13 points, was one of the chief reasons for the upset win over Penn.

"Chick" is the younger half of the brother dynasty started five years ago by older brother Charley, greatest of Crimson hoop stars. While not as good a shot as Charley, the stockier "Chicken" passes, scraps, and dribbles like Charley.

• • •

The annual winter Yale clashes, begun Saturday with the ice contest at the Arena, gets in full swing this weekend, with seven contests scheduled at New Haven. The loss to the Blues Saturday was the first ever suffered by Crimson coach Johnny Chase. The teams Chase played on 1926-28 whipped the Elis six games in a row.

• • •

Harold Baker, a senior who plays No. 2 on the Harvard squash racquets team, is the only college player in the nation ever to beat Charles Brinton of Princeton. Baker, handicapped by a broken ankle suffered last fall, defeated Brinton at the Gold Racquets competition in N. Y.

Galen Felt of Pasadena, No. 1 squashman, hasn't lost so much as a single game in any intercollegiate match.

M'MITCHELL REMATCHED WITH DODDS

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—Swiping an idea from Mike Jacob's fight promoting methods, Metropolitan track officials already have paired Gil Dodds and Leslie MacMitchell for another fling at the world indoor mile record at the Knights of Columbus Meet on March 14.

Dodds, a 23-year-old student at Gordon Seminary in Boston, became the newest mile sensation Saturday night in the National AAU races by outlasting MacMitchell, NUY Senior, in a 4:08.7 effort to end a string of 19 consecutive triumphs.

Ironically, MacMitchell's first defeat in almost a year came just a few hours before he received the James E. Sullivan award as the nation's outstanding amateur athlete of 1941 at a luncheon.

DODDS' FEAT STUNNING

Dodds' triumph so dumbfounded the 15,000 spectators that even the officials hadn't regained their composure when Greg Rice cantered to a world record for the third straight year in the three-mile run.

Fred Wilt of Indiana, who was expected to furnish Rice with most of his opposition, was waved off the track with another lap to go and Robert Nichols of Rhode Island State, actually third, wasn't even listed in the official summaries.

Rice clattered to the tape in 13:45.7 after having passed every one of his rivals at least twice on his 33 turns around the Madison Square Garden oval.

In the AAU committee meeting which preceded the MacMitchell luncheon the delegates instructed Lawrence Di Benedetto of New Orleans, AAU president, to name a three-man committee to confer with John B. Kelly of the Hale America Division of the OCD.

BLOZIS GLAMOROUS

Other indoor world records set in Saturday's meet which saw the New York A. C. retain its championship with 20 points, were in the two-mile relay where Seton Hall's foursome burst the tape in 7:39.8, in the shot put where Al Blozis of Georgetown got off a toss of 57 feet, ¾ inch

$100 HOCKEY CONTEST

GAMES OF WEEK OF MARCH 8 TO MARCH 14

Fill out each game with your scores and send it in to the Hockey Contest Editor, Record-American, Box 228, Boston, Mass. Calculate the average scores of the winning and losing teams, omitting those teams for which you have predicted a tie. Your solution must be in this office not later than midnight, Thursday, March 5. Winners will be announced in the Sunday Advertiser of Sunday, March 22. You may use this blank or a facsimile of the same size. In the event of ties, the proximity of estimated scores to actual tallies will determine winners.

The decisions of the judges are final.

First prize, $50 cash.

Second prize, $25 cash.

Next 25 will be awarded one dollar each.

An entrant is allowed to submit THREE solutions, one each from the Record, the American and the Sunday Advertiser, although each member of the family is eligible to enter.

BRIMSEK BRILLIANT AS BRUINS TIE WINGS

The one big task facing the Bruins today is getting their revamped club organized and rolling by the time the playoffs roll around, in three weeks time.

Last Tuesday evening the Rossmen showed promise of coming into their own against the Rangers but last night the Stanley Cup champions showed little in luckily emerging from the Garden with a 3 to 3 tie against the Detroit Red Wings.

But for the sensational play of Frankie Brimsek, the Bruins could very easily have bowed to the Wings on home ice for the first time since Dec. 7, 1937, instead of running their streak of unbeaten games at the expense of the Wings, here, to 19.

Brimsek was truly great. His defense was weaker than it has been in years. Jack Crawford was cut badly over the bridge of the nose in the first period and playing the last two cantos with four stitches, wasn't up to his usual standard.

BRIMSEK STOPS 44 SHOTS

Then, too, Des Smith did not play the last two periods because of stomach pains which forced the doctors to send him home early.

With these two men gone Brimsek really had to battle all the way. He had 44 stops against 26 for Mowers and many of these saves were truly great. Time and again waves of two and three came in and he managed to turn them away.

The Wings scored three and might just as easily have scored 10 but it just wasn't their night. Brimsek together with Roy Conacher proved the unbeatable combination.

ROY SCORES TWICE

Roy who hadn't scored a goal in 10 games, hit paydirt twice last night, to turn the tide.

His first was a 40-footer right down the middle that whistled by Mowers to put the Bruins ahead 2 to 1. Then at the 12:51 mark in the third period, he scored unassisted from about 35 feet out, by outguessing Mowers.

Because of poor officiating, the game was rough and it's a wonder there weren't some serious injuries.

Eagles Sextet In A. A. U. Play

Boston College, New England Intercollegiate hockey titlists, will seek new honors in the National A. A. U. championships at the Arena next Saturday and Sunday.

The Eagles who won their third straight N. E. hockey title by defeating Colby Saturday night, will be the only college sextet in the tournament.

They will be called upon to face the toughest and fastest club teams in the country, contending for the crown won a year ago by the St. Nicks of New York.

The winner of the N. E. A. A. U. tournament finals at the Arena tonight is expected to be the second local representative in the Nationals.

N. L. TITLE HEAVY BURDEN: 1942 BUMS TURN GENTEEL

HAVANA, March 2 (AP)—It probably won't last, but the Brooklyn Dodgers at this writing are about as calm and collected and sedate a set of ballplayers as ever put on their jackets to enter a hotel dining room. They regard rhumba dancers strictly from the standpoint of visual entertainment.

Probably the war has had something to do with the drastic toning down of Manager Leo Durocher's boys; that and the fact they won the National League championship last year and feel that they should wear their laurels with a certain dignity.

At any rate, they bear but slight resemblance to the rowdy crew that invested, or infested, the tropics a year ago.

"We're slowly going to sleep around here," complained one veteran Dodger newspaper correspondent. "Why, it's safe for us fellows to go to bed by midnight. Last year our best stories never broke until long after that. But maybe things will pick up a little now that Larry MacPhail is here."

MacPhail, himself, appears to have been slightly bitten by the new order. He is talking and dressing somewhat more quietly than usual, and twice within five minutes he was heard to agree with Durocher about the merits of one of their players.

"Everything is fine," said MacPhail as he basked in the warm sun. "Every man of our roster is signed except Whit Wyatt. I had to fine Kirby Higbe $350 for the seven days he missed practice, but he's all straightened out now."

Durocher expressed similar contentment, and even the peppery coach Charley Dressen looked a little broader across the middle.

Since their acquisition of Arky Vaughan to play third and the purchase of a good extra outfielder in Don Padgett the Dodgers have no major worries—except the draft, and they all have that.

About Padgett: They wish Uncle Sam would make up his mind soon. If Don, who is top flight material, is ordered to report before the season begins, then Brooklyn doesn't owe the Cardinals a cent for him. But if he plays a league game and then is called up he will be one of Brooklyn's frozen assets.

Krauts Show Amateurs How

OTTAWA, March 2 (AP) — The Hull Volants learned an object lesson Saturday—you can't stop the Krauts by body-checking.

The three-time champions of the Ottawa City Senior League experienced with that formula against the Royal Canadian Air Force flyers in the first game of the league's best-of-seven final play off series and dropped a 6-4 verdict before 7262 paid admissions, largest City League crowd since 1929.

Replying in kind every time the Volants tried to play rough, the Kraut line rode out a stiff-checking barrage to split up seven scoring points — Woody Dumart two goals and an assist, Bobby Bauer one goal and an assist and Milt Schmidt two assists.

The second game of the series will be played Tuesday night.

72 Flies, Good Walkers Sold G. E. for Dinner Test

NEW YORK, March 2 (INS)—Just as General Electric Co. was beginning to believe that the common house fly had gone the way of the dod and the 6.00x16 tire, six dozen flies in good working order were delivered today.

General Electric wanted the flies for its "electronic dinner" tomorrow night. "Not to eat," a company spokesman hastily explained. They were required for a demonstration of electronic tubes, so sensitive they can pick up the sound of a fly walking.

An advertisement was placed in morning papers offering a dollar a dozen for healthy house flies.

The morning passed and it looked as though termites might have to be substituted although they are not the loud, heavy-heeled walkers that good sugar-bowl flies are.

Then at noon a man arrived carrying a wire cage.

"Six dozen flies," he said. "We got 125,000 more if you need spares."

He said he was from the entomogical testing laboratory and volunteered feeding instructions.

"Give 'em a little milk diluted with water and pour it on cotton pads," he said.

He added that the life of the fly is 15 days and those he delivered were a week old.

"Middle-aged," he said. "Don't try to keep 'em too long."

Union Upheld By High Court

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today that the federal anti-racketeering act did not apply to members of a labor union who, the Justice Department alleged, required owners of trucks entering New York city from out of the state to pay a union member to drive and unload the trucks within the city.

Justice Byrnes delivered the 6 to 1 decision, applying specifically to local 807 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen and Helpers of America and 26 individual members.

Stowe Ideal Rendezvous For Skiers

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

STOWE, Vt., March 2—Steeped in legends and skiers is Smugglers Notch, home of mighty Mt. Mansfield. Tradition has it that pirates and smugglers conveyed contraband goods through this vast cut in the mountains almost two centuries ago.

It is also said that a treasure in silver lies buried in a cave somewhere in this wilderness.

The modern swashbuckler on skis finds treasure in great abundance here in the form of deep powder snow on all slopes and trails. Snow has fallen almost every day during the past week, creating ideal conditions and assuring a spring skiing season through April.

Despite the troubled times, business in this region has never been better. The mile and one-quarter long Chair Lift, longest in the world, has been carrying capacity crowds to the summit almost daily.

All inns and hotels are well filled, most skiers staying for at least one or two weeks, indicating that the trend is now for winter vacations.

Sepp Ruschp, who is heading his famous ski school for the sixth season, has seven assistant instructors who handle his large classes. This second biggest ski school in the East has had an average of over one hundred pupils every day since the season began, not to mention week-ends.

MORRELL HOST

George Morrell, tall and towering manager-owner of The Lodge at Smugglers Notch, has been turning customers away for days. This inviting rendezvous of ski runners with its nearby chalet, can accommodate over one hundred, so some of the pirate's treasure is being found here in the North.

Glowing with good cheer is The Lodge as "snow bunnies" and "beavers" gather around the fireplace in the evening. Many play games, others read and relax. Some wear varied and colorful ensembles, some even ski.

Riding the chair lift, a moving finger that points continuously to the top of Mount Mansfield, was a great thrill. Chilled skiers, alighting after this 6030 foot flight through space avail themselves of the warmth from the big fireplace in the famous Octagon House.

Emerging, eyes sparkling and cheeks bright, they don their skis and make breathless descents down the several trails that wind in narrow ribbons through the trees and clouds to the valley below.

Most of these runs were laid out under the supervision of Charles Lord, a veteran Vermont skier. New this winter is the Skimeister Trail which travels three and one-quarter miles back to The Lodge. Others are the Chin Clip, the S-53, The Bruce, The Merrill, and the Toll Road.

Veteran Hissers Set Time for Job On Japs in Movie

HOLLYWOOD, March 2 (AP)—Hissing time: Three minutes.

The movie, "Remember Pearl Harbor," will begin with newsreel scenes of the arrival of Saburo Kurusu in this country before the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Republic Studio said today one minute had been allotted for the hissing, but veteran hissers insisted 60 seconds was only time enough for a warm-up.

Sub Launched At Portsmouth

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 2 (AP)—A Navy submarine, the U. S. S. Kingfish, was launched today at the Navy Yard before a small group of official guests, Navy officers and yard workmen.

The sponsor was Mrs. Harry A. Stuart, wife of Rear Admiral Stuart, in charge of naval petroleum reserves.

"WARNER TREATMENTS BEST WAY TO KEEP YOUR HAIR," SAYS PAT ROONEY

BOSTON, Mar. 1 (J.W.)—Pat Rooney, grand old man of the American stage, now playing at the Latin Quarter, knows that his good head of hair is an asset. He is among the leaders in all lines of endeavor who have retained their hair through treatment by John E. Warner and Associates. Thousands of men have saved and improved their hair through the advanced scientific Warner treatment, but hundreds of others have been rejected because they waited too long and were told that they could not receive benefit from treatment.

A private scalp examination and consultation is available to you at the offices of John E. Warner without cost or obligation. Fees for treatment are very moderate and are payable as the treatments are taken, not in advance. There is a separate department for women. Phone Hub. 1705. The Warner offices are conveniently located at 320 Little Building, corner of Boylston and Tremont Streets.
